REF.
f
Z
7817
N420s
1959:1

FOR REFERENCE

NOT TO BE TAKEN FROM THIS ROOM

Selected List

C U R R E N T B O O K S A N D P A M P H L E T S

(Items Published in 1957, 1958, and 1959 Only)

Added to the Collection of

THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

Between January 1, 1959 and June 30, 1959

- - - - - - -

3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York

68531

Z
7817
N43Os
1959:1
Ref

New York (City) Missionary research library

KOLBERT LIBRARY PACIFIC SCHOOL OF RELIGION

CONTENTS

I. HISTORY
- A. History of Missions 1
- B. History of Missionary Societies 1
- C. Church History 2
- D. Ecumenical Movement; Church Union and Cooperation 3
- E. Roman Catholic Missions 3

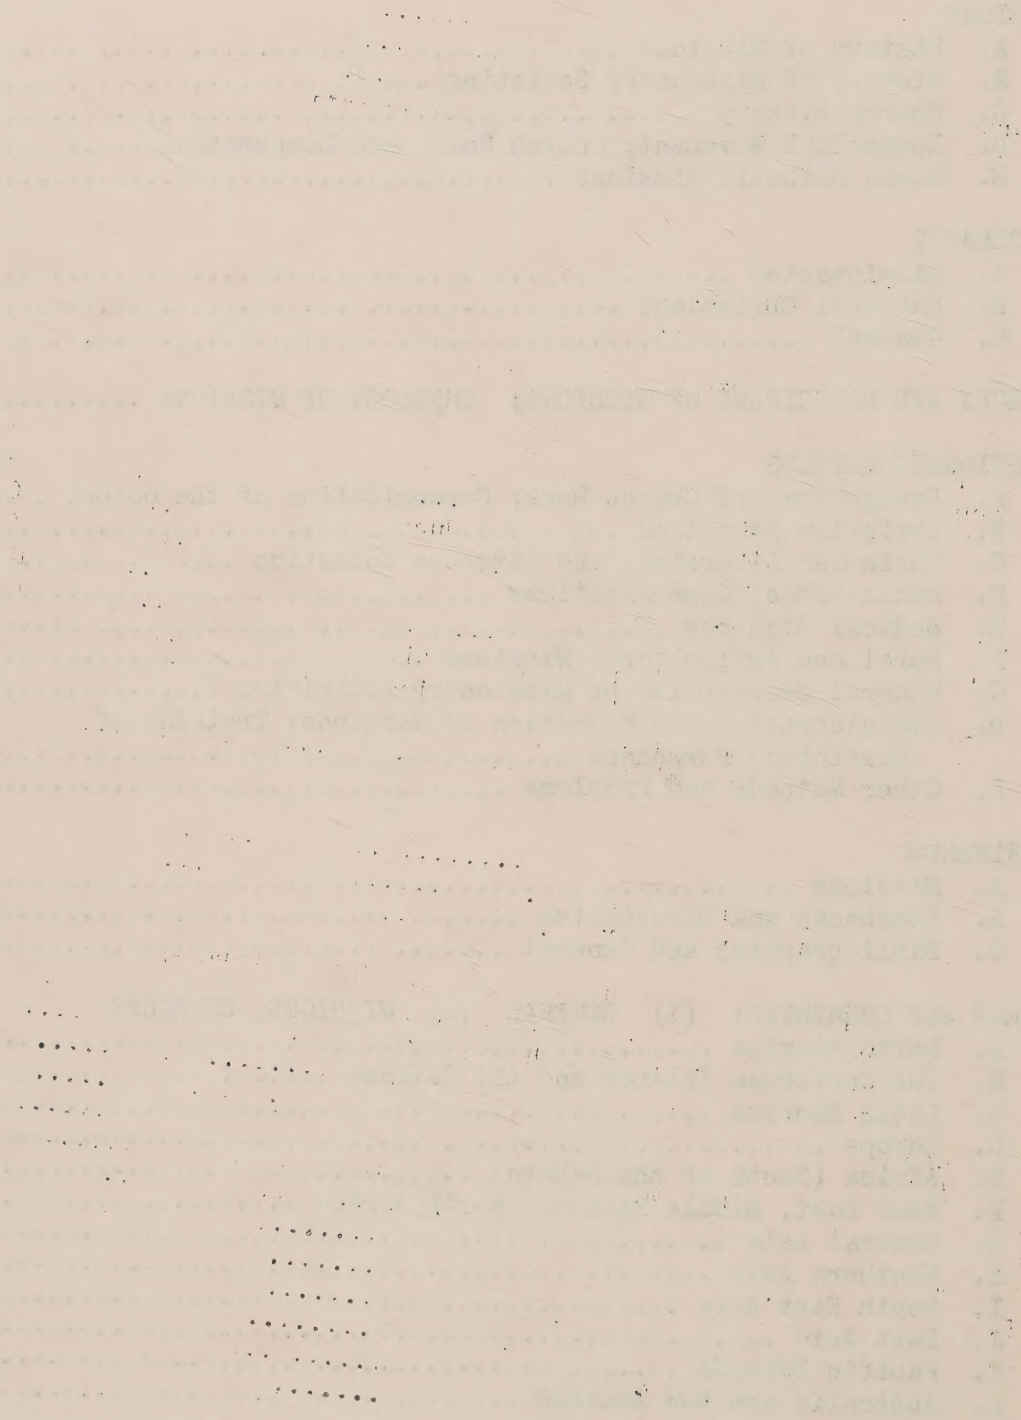
II. BIOGRAPHY
- A. Missionaries 5
- B. National Christians 7
- C. General 7

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS 8

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS
- A. Evangelism and Church Work; Communication of the Gospel 9
- B. Christian Education 9
- C. Christian Literature and Literacy Education 10
- D. Audio-Visual Communications 10
- E. Medical Missions 10
- F. Rural and Agricultural Missions 11
- G. General Description of Missionary Activities 11
- H. Administration and Promotion of Missions; Training of Missionary Personnel 11
- I. Other Methods and Problems 11

V. REFERENCE
- A. Missions 11
- B. Yearbooks and Directories 12
- C. Bibliographies and General 12

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES
- A. North America 13
- B. The Caribbean Islands and the Guianas 15
- C. Latin America 16
- D. Europe 17
- E. Africa (South of the Sahara) 18
- F. Near East, Middle East and North Africa 24
- G. Central Asia 27
- H. Southern Asia 28
- I. South East Asia 32
- J. East Asia 34
- K. Pacific Islands 38
- L. Australia and New Zealand 39
- M. General 39



VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES
A. Religions of Primitive Peoples 40
B. The Great Non-Christian Religions 40
C. Judaism 42
D. Communism 42
E. General and Other Religions 43

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE 44

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS 50

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL 51

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY 54

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2025

https://archive.org/details/international-bulletin-of-mission-research_1959_1

I. HISTORY

A. HISTORY OF MISSIONS

1. Davy, Yvonne.
Going with God; on Missions of Mercy in Central Africa. Washington, D. C., Review and Herald Publishing Association, 1959. 192 p. $3.00 Autobiography of a Seventh Day Adventists missionary couple who have served since 1943 in the Congo Union Mission of the Belgian Congo. Emphasis on pioneering experiences and the Sabbath observances of African converts.

2. Elder, Earl E.
Vindicating A Vision. Philadelphia, Board of Foreign Missions of the United Presbyterian Church, 1958. 336 p. $4.40 The full story of the American Mission in Egypt of the United Presbyterian Church, which has resulted after one hundred years in establishment of the "Coptic Evangelical Church." Based upon careful historical research and written with sincere love for Egypt and her people. The author is a missionary educator and scholar.

3. Griesse, Elmer E. and Fergin, James A.
The Missouri Evangelical Lutheran India Mission. St. Louis, Mo., Board of Foreign Missions, The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, 1958. 153 p. Lutheran Missouri Synod missions in South India for over half a century. Written in much detail by two authors who deal with both outer and inner problems of the Church.

4. Meyer, Richard H.
The Missouri Evangelical Lutheran China Mission 1913 - 1948. St. Louis, Mo., Board of Foreign Missions, The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, 1958. 57 p. Thirty-five years of Lutheran Missouri Synod effort in Central China, through wars and revolutions, up to the year before the great Communist advance.

5. Renault, Gilbert.
The Caravels of Christ. N. Y., Putnam's, 1959. 254 p. $5.00 The exciting story of 15th century Protuguese explorers who rounded the Cape of Good Hope in their small vessels (caravels) and discovered East Africa and India, for trade and for the Church. Translation from the French.

6. Vittoz, Pierre.
Goldene Dächer - Schwarze Zelte. Basel, Switzerland, Basler Missionsbuchhandlung, 1958. 199 p. "Golden Rook - Black Tent." Missionary work of Ehepaar Vittox of the Herrnhutter Brotherhood, for six years in the highlands of Tibet.

B. HISTORY OF MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

7. Almquist, L. Arden.
Covenant Missions in Congo. Chicago, Covenant Press, 1958. 81 p. Story of over twenty years of missionary work in Ubanga, north Congo Belge, by the Board of Missions of the Evangelical Covenant Church of America. Written by a medical missionary. For study and reading in the supporting churches.

8. Hitchcock, Olive, ed.
This Is the Victory Even Our Faith; a History of C.M.S. Ladies' College. Ceylon, Saman Press, 1957. 115 p. 6s. A lively history of Ladies' College, Colombo, founded by the Church Missionary Society in 1900, which is at the same time an absorbing account of education and social progress in Ceylon for over half a century.

9. Littlejohn, Carrie U.
History of Carver School of Missions and Social Work. Nashville, Tenn., Broadman Press, 1958. 198 p. $3.00 This famous school at Louisville, Kentucky, dedicated to the missionary training of women, was founded and nurtured by the Woman's Missionary Union and is now supported by the Southern Baptist Convention. This book is a record of its first half century and of the thousands of women it has educated for Christian service.

10. Millot, Rene P.
La Chine Découvre le Christ. Paris, Librairie Arthème Fayard, 1957. 218 p. $2.00 China discovers Christ; the story in popular form and lucid French of Roman Catholic missions to China in the 16th century, centering about the life and work of the Jesuit Matteo Ricci.

11. Ronicke, Curt, ed.
So Leben Wir in Afrika. Bethel bei Bielefeld, Germany, Bethel-Mission, 1958. 184 p. DM 4.60 "So We Live in Africa." A fine narrative by the Bethel Mission of Germany about its work in East Africa, in the form of 28 chapters written by missionaries engaged in varied forms of missionary service.

12. Scholz, John G.
The Lutheran Philippine Mission 1946 - 1952. St. Louis, Mo., Board of Foreign Missions, The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, 1958. 57 p. B.D. Thesis; a new mission field begun since World War II in the face of unusual difficulties.

13. Strege, Arthur H.
The Japan Mission of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod 1948 - 1954. St. Louis, Mo., Board of Foreign Missions, The Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, 1958. 86 p. A Master's thesis on the first six years of Missouri Synod's new missionary program in Japan - Tokyo, Nigata and Hokkaido areas.

14. Strickland, Charles H.
African Adventure. Kansas City, Mo., Nazarene Publishing House, 1959. 86 p. $1.00 Story of the Church of the Nazarene missionary effort among Europeans of South Africa (Union of South Africa, South-East Africa, Central African Federation and Protestant East Africa), begun in 1948.

15. Van Ess, Dorothy.
History of the Arabian Mission, 1926-1957. N. Y., Board for the Christian World Mission of the Reformed Church of America, 1957. 92 p. Mimeographed. Over one hundred missionaries of the Reformed Church have served in Arabia. History of their work, in education, medicine and evangelism, and the fruit in a small Church of Christ in Arabia.

See also: 83, 175, 181, 202, 276, 308.

C. CHURCH HISTORY

16. Latourette, Kenneth Scott.
The Nineteenth Century in Europe; Background and the Roman Catholic Phase. (Christianity in a Revolutionary Age; a History of Christianity in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries, Vol. I) N. Y., Harper, 1958. 498 p. $6.00 First of a projected five volume series, covering all aspects of Christian thought and life since 1815. A swift panorama of the first seventeen centuries of Christendom, beginnings of the modern revolutionary period, the Roman Catholic Church in the 19th century. A notable accomplishment by the greatest living church historian.

17. Pakenham-Walsh, H.
Lights and Shadows of Christendom. 3 vols. Madras, SPCK and CLS, 1957. 386 p., 382 p. Rs. 8 per vol. European church history written for Indian theological students. The last chapter is on "Archbishop Temple and the Ecumenical Movement." However, the space given to the "younger churches" is disappointingly small.

18. The Russian Orthodox Church; Organization, Situation, Activity. Moscow, Moscow Patriarchate, n.d. 229 p. Published for the 40th anniversary of the re-established Patriarchal See and to describe the present situation, structure and activity of the Russian Orthodox Church. It reflects the Soviet Government point of view. Appears at an opportune time just as relations between the Russian Orthodox Church and the World Council of Churches are under discussion.

D. ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT; CHURCH UNION AND COOPERATION

19. Baum, Gregory.
That They May Be One; a Study of Papal Doctrine, (Leo XIII - Pius XII). Westminster, Maryland, The Newman Press, 1958. 181 p. $3.50 A study of church unity by a Roman Catholic scholar. Chapters include: The Unity of the Church, Dissident Christians and Churches, Catholic Ecumenism. The attitude to Protestantism is friendly and irenic. Deserves wide reading.

20. Ferguson, J. M. MacDougall.
Tokyo Calling; The Story of the 14th World Convention of the World Council of Christian Education and Sunday School Association. Surrey, England, World Education Press, 1958. 50 p. Five thousand delegates from around the world attended this great convention in Tokyo, August 6-13, 1958.

21. Jurji, Edward J., ed.
The Ecumenical Era in Church and Society; a Symposium in Honor of John A. Mackay. N. Y., Macmillan, 1959. 238 p. $5.00 A galaxy of ecumenical leaders (Visser 't Hooft, Kraemer, Goodall, Niles, Devanandan, Baez-Camargo, Eugene C. Blake, and others) honor theologian and missionary statesman Mackay upon his retirement, with essays of a high order. A fine contribution to ecumenical literature.

22. Ray, John B.
Christmas Holidays Around the World. N. Y., Comet, 1959. 69 p. $2.50 An interesting little book about various Christmas observances and customs in European countries, and also Canada, Mexico and New Zealand.

23. Report of the World Institute on Christian Education. N. Y., World Council of Christian Education and Sunday School Association, 1958. 78 p. This study conference in Japan, July 19 - August 1, 1958, was attended by 251 Christian educators, representing 58 nations. Main addresses, reports of the six commissions, Who's Who of Delegates.

E. ROMAN CATHOLIC MISSIONS

24. Bouffard, Adrien.
Propagation of the Faith; Insight into the Missionary World. N. Y., The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 1958. 66 p. $1.00 English translation of Bouffard's Perpsectives Sur La Monde, with an introduction by Bishop Fulton Sheen. A survey of Roman Catholic missions upon the background of world conditions, with numerous statistical tables and charts. Protestant missions are mentioned by in a very brief and inadequate way.

25. Crotti, Amelio.
Piu Forte Della Tormenta. Milano, Pontificio Instituto Missioni Estere, 1957. 191 p. 300 lira. Stories, letters and other documents relating to the Communist persecution of Roman Catholics in China. Italian language, paper bound.

26. Duperray, Édouard.
Ambassadeurs de Dieu a la Chine. Paris, Casterman, 1956. 276 p. 90 Bel. fr. A collection of seventy significant documents in the history of Roman Catholic missions in China, from the 7th century to the early 20th century. There is also a section with 15 Protestant documents by Hudson Taylor and others.

27. D'Ydewalle, Charles.
L'Evangile sous les Tropiques. Paris, Librairie Arthème Fayard, 1958. 153 p. $2.00 Brief, interesting account of Catholic missions in French-speaking Africa, their successes and difficulties; and a hopeful look into the future.

28. Etteldorf, Raymond.
The Catholic Church in the Middle East. N. Y., Macmillan, 1959. 184 p. $3.75 An informative and illuminating description of eight Near East countries; the social and religious situation in each; statistics of Catholic, Orthodox, Eastern Rite and "dissident" churches, and of the Protestant communities. By a Roman Catholic scholar who has traveled widely in this area. A significant contribution to missionary literature.

29. Gibbons, William J. and Others.
Basic Ecclesiastical Statistics for Latin America, 1958. (World Horizon Reports, No. 24) Maryknoll, N. Y., Maryknoll Publications, 1958. 72 p. $0.75 Up-to-date information on Roman Catholic churches, leadership, membership, institutions, in Central and South America and the Caribbean area.

30. Societa Delle Mission Africane, S.M.A.
Nel Centenario, 1856-1956. Rome, Society of African Missions, 1957. 95 p. 500 lira Commemoration volume for the centenary of the (Roman Catholic) Society of African Missions, founded in 1856 and resulting today in nearly five thousand churches and chapels. Illustrated.

31. Tavard, George H.
The Church, The Layman and the Modern World. N. Y., Macmillan, 1959. 84 p. $2.50 Beginning as an exposition of Roman Catholic lay movements this significant little book is really a theological study of the Catholic Church in the technological world, the revolutionary society and the religious confusions of today. Father Tavard is a scholar with irenic spirit and sympathetic approach to all faiths.

32. Vaulx, Bernard de.
Les Eglises de Couleur. Paris, Librairie Arthème Fayard, 1957. 155 p. $1.60 The story of Roman Catholic missions among the colored (non-white) people of Asia and Africa, and of the new churches established there. The closing chapter is on Catholicism in Communist China. Carefully written; for general readers.

See also: 33, 34, 39, 40, 48, 63, 65, 71, 154, 313.

II. B I O G R A P H Y

A. MISSIONARIES

33. Cronin, Vincent.
A Pearl to India; the Life of Robert de Nobili. N. Y., Dutton, 1959. 297 p. $4.50 The first complete biography of Robert de Nobili (1577-1656), Catholic missionary to India, linguist and theologian, object of much suspicion and hostility yet withal a scholarly and saintly pioneer. Based upon hitherto unpublished documents and letters. By the author of The Wise Man From the East (Matteo Ricci).

34. Daniel-Rops, Henri.
The Heroes of God. N. Y., Hawthorn, 1959. 223 p. $3.95 Eleven missionaries, including one woman, who have carried the Cross to the far corners of the earth - their life stories, beautifully told by a great Roman Catholic lay writer, editor-in-chief of the 20th Century Encyclopedia of Catholicism.

35. Franck, Frederick.
Days with Albert Schweitzer; a Lambaréné Landscape. N. Y., Holt, 1959. 178 p. $4.00 A New York dentist, gifted doctor, artist and writer, spends several months at Lambarene to start a dental clinic. His book is one of the most intimate and vivid portraits of Albert Schweitzer that has yet been written. He destroys the "legend" and pictures the human side of the "Grand Docteur."

36. Hall, Clarence W.
Adventurers for God. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 265 p. $3.75 Stirring biographical sketches of modern missionary heroes: Dave Stieger, Sir Henry Holland, Eleanor Wilson, Morrell Vories, Trevor Huddleston, the missionary martyrs of Ecuador, and others. These first appeared as articles or book condensations in the Reader's Digest. A fine gift book.

37. Hennell, Michael.
John Venn and the Clapham Sect. London, Lutterworth Press, 1958. 295 p. 30 s. John Venn, first chairman of the Church Missionary Society and advocate of wise principles for missionary pioneering and church-building, comes to life in this new biography based on family papers and other original sources.

38. Holland, Henry.
Frontier Doctor; an Autobiography. London, Hodder and Stoughton, 1958. 256 p. 25 s. Autobiography of a Christian physician from England who served fifty years with the Church Missionary Society on the Northwest Frontier of India, in Kashmir and Pakistan. He specialized in eye operations, went through the devastating earthquake at Quetta, and experienced many other exciting adventures.

39. Kittler, Glenn D.
The Woman God Loved. Garden City, N. Y., Hanover House, 1959. 235 p. $3.95 Anne-Marie Javouhey of France (1779-1851) became a nun against parental objections and founded the Sisters of St. Joseph of Cluny. She travelled over Africa, Latin America and the Caribbean in indefatigable service to the needy. Stirring missionary biography in fictional form. The heroine was beatified in 1950.

40. Lavaux, Leopold.
Pensées et Maximes du Père Lebbe. Paris, Les Editions Universitaires, 1950. 118 p. Selections from the writings of the Roman Catholic missionary Father Lebbe (1877-1940), called the "apostle of modern China," with an introduction and brief biographical sketch. Lebbe was a gentle, sensitive and courageous spirit.

41. Lewis, Eleanor Francis.
Beads of Jade. N. Y., Vantage Press, 1958. 258 p. $3.50 A sketchy but interesting narrative of the pioneer missionary life and work of Dr. and Mrs. Spencer Lewis in Szechwan Province of West China, 1882-1895. Written by their China-born daughter. Description of 19th century China scenes and customs and early missionary attitudes.

42. Morgan, Christine Hudgins.
I Married a San Blas Indian; the Story of Marvel Elya Iglesias. N. Y., Vantage Press, 1958. 81 p. $2.75 An American young woman in 1933 accompanied her Indian husband to live and work on the San Blas islands north of Panama. The story of a devoted missionary couple, now serving under the Southern Baptist Mission. The author spent 16 years in Cristobel and knew Lonnie and Marvel Iglesias well.

43. Myklebust, Olav. G., ed.
Hans Egede; Studier til 200-årsdagen for hans dod 5. November 1958. (Studies of the Egede Institute, No. 8). Oslo, Egede Instituttet, 1958. 324 p. Ten studies dealing with the heroic figure in the history of the Northern Churches, Hans Egede, missionary, scholar, colonizer of Greenland (1686-1758). Published on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of his death.

44. Phillips, Herbert M.
Safari of Discovery; the Universe of Albert Schweitzer. N. Y., Twayne, 1958. 271 p. $4.00 Another volume added to the already huge library on Albert Schweitzer. But this one is refreshingly different; based on wide and critical reading of Schweitzer literature and numerous conversations with the doctor, it seeks to interpret his complex thought universe and the sources of his philosophy and power. Schweitzer is presented as "the overdue, much needed prophet of the divided Western World."

45. Poulsen, A. Aagaard.
Under Fremmede Himmelstrøg. Hellerup, Denmark, Danish Missionary Society, 1958. 72 p. "Beneath Foreign Skies." Story of six Danish missionaries who served in Manchuria, 1912-1946.

46. Pudney, Edwin J. Lilian G.
Sacrifice of Praise. Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., Unevangelized Fields Mission, 1958. 80 p. The Secretary of the Unevangelized Fields Mission and his wife tell the story of their life and work in the Congo, and in British, Canadian and U.S.A. Mission Headquarters.

47. Simon, Charlie May (pseud.).
All Men Are Brothers; a Portrait of Albert Schweitzer. N. Y., Dutton, 1959. 192 p. $3.00 Fifth printing of a new and tender biography of Albert Schweitzer, which the great missionary himself says in "sympathetic in its simplicity." The author, Mrs. John Gould Fletcher, has visited Schweitzer at Lambarene and his birthplace at Günsbach.

48. Voillaume, R.
Seeds of the Desert: The Legacy of Charles de Foucauld. London, Burns & Oates, 1955. 368 p. 19s. 6d. Biography of Father de Foucauld (Brother Charles) of France, Roman Catholic missionary who died a martyrs's death on the sands of Sahara; story, also, of the "Little Brothers" which he founded and their life of poverty and devotion. Translated from the French.

See also: 97, 174, 183, 186, 209, 220, 296.

B. NATIONAL CHRISTIANS

49. Beck, Hartmut.
Von Angst Befreit; Der Weg des Peter Simbeye. (Von Fernen Ufern Series, No. 50). Stuttgart, Evangelischer Missionsverlag, 1958. 16 p. DM .60 "Set Free From Fear." Biography of a Tanganyika Christian.

50. Dehqani-Tafti, H. B.
Design of My World. (World Christian Books, No. 28, Second Series). London, United Society for Christian Literature, 1959. 80 p. 2s. 6d. The moving life story and Christian experience of a young priest in the Anglican Church of Iran, born of a Christian mother but reared in a Muslim environment.

51. Lim, Janet.
Sold for Silver; an Autobiography. Cleveland and N. Y., World, 1958. 252 p. $3.95 From slave girl at the age of 8 to matron of St. Andrew's Hospital in Singapore at 36: the autobiographical story of Janet Lim. A heroic Chinese Christian woman, through war and many kinds of tragic testing. Inspiring book, full of swift action.

52. Pakh, Indik.
Der Schmale Weg. (Von Fernen Ufern Series, No. 51). Stuttgart, Evangelischer Missionsverlag, 1958. 16 p. DM .60 The Narrow Way. Brief autobiography of an outstanding Korean Christian woman.

53. Popley, H. A. and Others.
Three YMCA Pioneers. Calcutta, YMCA Publishing House, 1958. 27 p. Biographical sketches of K. T. Paul, H. C. Buck and S. K. Datta, well-known Indian Y.M.C.A. leaders.

See also: 62, 180, 267.

C. GENERAL

54. Bondurant, Joan V.
Conquest of Violence; the Gandhian Philosophy of Conflict. Princeton, New Jersey, Princeton University Press, 1958. 269 p. $5.00 Gandhi's philosophy and technique of action, Satyagraha or truth force, is interpreted with rare insight and skill by a gifted woman scholar who spent four years in India and now teaches at University of California. Dr. Bondurant makes Gandhi's complex ideas meaningful and relevant to the social and international problems of today.

55. Heiderstadt, Dorothy.
To All Nations; How the Bible Came to the People. N. Y., Nelson, 1959. 192 p. $2.95 Biographical sketches of twelve great Bible translators in various parts of the world, from John Wycliffe to the 19th century. Informal and readable style.

56. St. John, Robert.
Ben-Gurion, the Biography of an Extraordinary Man. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 336 p. $3.95 Striking in appearance and in personality, Ben Gurion has guided the destiny of the new nation of Israel. A warm friend and admirer has produced this true-to-life and vivid biography.

57. Zahniser, Clarence Howard.
Earnest Christian; Life and Works of Benjamin Titus Roberts. Circleville, Ohio, Advocate Publishing House, 1957. 349 p. $3.95 Detailed, conscientious, sympathetic biography of a man who with deep convictions and great strength of will founded and directed the Free Methodist Church. "Earnest Christian" was the name of the paper edited by Benjamin Titus Roberts.

See also: 240, 255.

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS

58. Hurst, Leonard.
Hill City; a study of the unfinished task of the Church within its own life, with special reference to the work of the London Missionary Society and to the Congregational Churches of Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand. London, London Missionary Society, 1958. 70 p. 4/- Fine, thoughtful little book on the world situation, mission and church organization, and the missionary frontiers ahead, prepared for study and reading in Congregational Churches of England. "Whenever the Church becomes resolutely and radically itself, no evil power...shall be able to withstand it."

59. Kraemer, Hendrik.
A Theology of the Laity. Philadelphia, Westminster Press, 1958. 191 p. $3.00 Dr. Kraemer, himself a distinguished lay theologian, presents in characteristically provocative fashion the influence of the laity in the history of the Church, and the elements of a "whole ecclesiology" that gives distinctive place to its lay ministry.

60. Nevius, John L.
Planting and Development of Missionary Churches. Philadelphia, The Reformed and Presbyterian Publishing Co., 1958. 92 p. $1.50 New reprint of Nevius' famous booklet on missionary methods, first published in Korea in 1890. Introduction by Bruce F. Hunt, missionary of the Orthodox Presbyterian Church in Korea.

61. Newbigin, Lesslie.
La Mission Mondiale de L'Église. Paris, Société des Missions Évangeliques, 1959. 103 p. French edition of One Body, One Gospel, One World - The Christian Mission Today; by Bishop Lesslie Newbigin.

62. Schmidt, Martin. Tr. from the German by L. A. Fletcher.
The Young Wesley; Missionary and Theologian of Missions. London, Epworth Press, 1958. 48 p. 5/ English translation of a brief, perceptive essay on young John Wesley's missionary impulses and philosophy.

63. Semaine de Missiologie.
Questions Scolaires aux Missions. Bruges, Belgium, Desclee de Brouwer, 1954. 242 p. 140 Bel. Fr. Various papers on theoretical problems of missions in Africa and Asia, by a number of well-qualified Roman Catholic missionaries. Presented at the 24th Seminar on Missiology, University of Louvain (1954).

64. Soltau, T. Stanley.
Facing the Field; the Foreign Missionary and His Problems. Grand Rapids, Mich., Baker Book House, 1959. 135 p. $2.00 The relationship of the missionary today to the country and people which he serves, to national Christians and fellow-missionaries, to his home and home constituency; and his own character and devotional life; helpfully discussed by a former Presbyterian missionary in Korea. He urges close identification with the churches in mission fields, and the utmost courtesy and sympathy in dealing with other peoples.

65. Suenens, Léon-Joseph.
L'Église en État de Mission. Bruges, Belgium, Desclée de Brouwer, 1958. 213 p. 60 Bel. fr. "The Church Ready for Mission." The relation of Church and Mission is expounded in a scholarly yet simple way by the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Milan.

66. The Christian Mission for Today; Five Addresses Presented to the Ninth Annual Assembly of the Division of Foreign Missions, NCC. N. Y., Division of Foreign Missions, NCCC, 1958. 34 p. Addresses by R. Norris Wilson, Virgil A. Sly, John Coventry Smith, Paul C. Empie, George W. Carpenter, on important phases of "The Christian Mission for Today."

67. Walker, Alan.
A New Mind for A New Age. N. Y., Abingdon, 1959. 143 p. $2.50 Thirteen essays on the relevance of the Christian gospel to all aspects of thought and life in today's stormy world. By Australia's outstanding evangelist.

See also: 70, 114, 266.

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS

A. EVANGELISM AND CHURCH WORK: COMMUNICATION OF THE GOSPEL

68. Braun-Dipp, Elisabeth.
Pandita Mobil; auf den Urwaldstromen Kalimantans (Borneo). Basel, Basler Missionsbuchhandlung, 1959. 164 p. Experiences of the German missionary Karl Braum, as he travels by motor-boat and serves with the younger churches in missionary penetration of the forests of Kalimantan (Borneo).

69. Minnich, Reynolds Herbert, Jr.
A Manual of Social Science Material for Missionaries. Ithaca, N. Y., 1958. 76 p. A Mennonite missionary candidate for Brazil, trained in the social sciences, wrote this exceptionally fine thesis on cultural change, cross-cultural programs, and extension methods in relation to missionary activities. References and bibliography. Available at M.R.L.

70. Webster, Douglas.
What Is Evangelism? London, Highway Press, 1959. 194 p. 5s. An extremely thoughtful and helpful new book on the meaning of evangelism and conversion, and ways of evangelical witness in the world today. Recommended for missionaries and church workers everywhere.

See also: 67.

B. CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

71. Ewing, J. Franklin, ed.
Christian Living in Mission Lands; Proceedings of the Fordham University Conference of Mission Specialists, 5th Annual Meeting. N. Y., Fordham University Press, 1959. 186 p. $3.50 Papers, commentaries and discussions of the Fifth

Roman Catholic Conference on Missions, dealing with religious education in mission lands: training of new Christians, Christian community living, sacramental life and Sunday worship, the role of home and family, and Christian influence on society. Advocates marked adaptations to native culture.

72. Religious Education in Africa; Report of the International Study Week at Leopoldville. Brussels, Lumen Vitae, 1956. 297 p. $3.50 Addresses on religious teachings and nurture for all ages and groups in African churches, from the point of view of Roman Catholic faith and missionary purpose.

See also: 20, 23, 81.

C. CHRISTIAN LITERATURE AND LITERACY EDUCATION

73. Gibson, John M.
Soldiers of the Word; the Story of the American Bible Society. N. Y., The Philosophical Library, 1958. 304 p. A true story, exciting as any well-written novel, about the American Bible Society from the early 19th century to the present; its pioneers and leaders, translations, adventures around the world, difficulties and accomplishments. Bibliography.

74. Wallis, Ethel E. and Bennett, Mary A.
Two Thousand Tongues to Go; the Story of the Wycliffe Bible Translators. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 308 p. $3.95 Exciting adventures in the effort to reach the two thousand "unbibled tribes" who comprise about five per cent of the world's population, in Central and South America and the Pacific islands. The Wycliffe Translators have over seven hundred missionaries at work.

See also: 93.

D. AUDIO-VISUAL COMMUNICATIONS

75. Hall, Edward T.
The Silent Language. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 240 p. $3.95 The importance of non-verbal language and of various concepts of space and time in inter-cultural communication, especially as it relates to a better understanding of other peoples by Americans overseas. By a widely travelled young anthropologist.

E. MEDICAL MISSIONS

76. Brown, J. A. Kinnear.
No More Leprosy. Nairobi, Kenya, Kampala, 1955. 20 p. A pamphlet on leprosy work in Uganda.

77. Goddard, H. A.
Principles of Administration Applied to Nursing Service. Geneva, Switzerland, World Health Organization, 1958. 106 p. Sw. fr. 12.- Prepared by a group of experienced consultants from all parts of the world. Useful for administrators of mission hospitals and nurses' training schools.

78. March, Arthur, comp.
Directory of Protestant Medical Missions. N. Y., Missionary Research Library, 1959. 134 p. $2.00 Result of a two-year survey by the Christian Medical Council for Overseas Work and the Missionary Research Library. Contains names, addresses and statistical information regarding 1500 medical units overseas - hospitals, leprosaria, t.b. sanitaria, and dispensaries.

79. Teichler, Dr. Günther.
Brücke der Liebe. (Von Fernen Ufern Series, No. 49). Stuttgart, Evangelischer Missionsverlag, 1958. 16 p. DM .60 Bridge of Life. Story of a South African Hospital founded by German missions, in the service of racial reconciliation.

See also: 38, 51, 124.

F. RURAL AND AGRICULTURAL MISSIONS

80. Olcott, Mason, ed.
Gram Sevak; A Handbook for the Village Worker. Calcutta, The Y.M.C.A. Publishing House, 1959. 130 p. Re.1-50 A simple and practical handbook of information on village extension service, methods of social survey, agricultural improvement, village industries, rural cooperation, medical service and public health, literacy and education, drama and music; by a group of Christian workers in India.

See also: 236, 252.

G. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

H. ADMINISTRATION AND PROMOTION OF MISSIONS: TRAINING OF MISSIONARY PERSONNEL

81. Howse, W. L.
The Sunday School and Missions. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1957. 146 p. $1.25 Importance of the Sunday School and its undeveloped possibilities in relation to the total missionary program of the Church. Written by a Southern Baptist religious educator for his own constituency but useful also for other denominations.

I. OTHER METHODS AND PROBLEMS

82. Christian Responsibility in the Emerging World Economic Situation; The Population Explosion, Industrialization, and World Mission; Papers of a Seminar for Mission Board Executives and Professors of Missions. Chicago, The University of Chicago, 1959. Eleven papers of a Seminar for Mission Board Executives, sponsored by the Federated Theological Faculty, University of Chicago, March 9-12, 1959. Extremely valuable and stimulating studies, with a concluding statement on "The responsibility of the mission boards and young churches: next steps."

V. R E F E R E N C E

A. MISSIONS

83. Mennonite Brethern Church
Missionary Atlas; a compilation of maps and related data of the foreign mission fields of the Conference of the Mennonite Brethern Church of North America.

Hillsboro, Kansas, Board of Foreign Missions, Mennonite Brethern Church, 1957. $3.15 Clear maps and interesting information about eleven countries where the Mennonite Brethren Church has missionary work. For use in missions classes.

84. Mestral, Claude de.
Christian Literature in Africa. London, Christian Literature Council, 1959. 84 p. A handbook for missionary societies, Christian writers, and literature centers; directory of Christian Councils, literature committees, book shops, and mission presses. Excellent reference material.

See also: 55

B. YEARBOOKS AND DIRECTORIES

85. The Asia Who's Who, 1958. Hong Kong, Pan-Asia Newspaper Alliance. 852 p. U.S. $6.00 Biographical sketches of 3000 leading men and women of more than twenty Asian countries, including Communist China, N. Korea and N. Vietnam. Useful reference book.

86. Canada, 1958; the Official Handbook of Present Conditions and Recent Progress. Ottawa, Queen's Printer, 1958. 323 p. $1.00 Handsome yearbook, profusely illustrated.

87. The Christian Handbook of India 1959. Nagpur, National Christian Council of India, 1959. 351 p. Full of up-to-date and authentic information on all phases of the Christian movement in India.

88. Mallory, Walter H., ed.
Political Handbook of the World; Parliaments, Parties, and Press. N. Y., Council on Foreign Relations, 1959. 231 p. $3.95 Authoritative and valuable reference book.

C. BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND GENERAL

89. Burickson, Sherwin.
Concise Dictionary of Contemporary History. N. Y., Philosophical Library, 1959. 216 p. $4.75 A handy reference tool. About 800 items.

90. Pan American Union.
Directory of Current Latin American Periodicals. Paris, United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. 1958. 266 p. $3.50 3376 titles, with essential information about each, classified by countries and subject matter. Introduction, indexes, etc. in Spanish, French and English. 42 religious periodicals included.

91. Percy, J. O.; Allbutt, Ivan; Percy, Douglas C.
Missions Annual - 1959. N. Y., Interdenominational Foreign Mission Association, 1959. 72 p. $1.00 Statistics of North American foreign missions, especially of the I.F.M.A., and special articles on various missionary topics. Well-printed reference book.

92. Runes, Dagobert D., ed.
Concise Dictionary of Judaism. N. Y., Philosophical Library, 1959. 237 p. $5.00 A handbook for quick reference on Jewish history, religion, philosophy and literature. About two thousand entries, with the advantages and weaknesses of brief explanations. The point of view is liberal on Biblical scholarship, Zionist, anti-Christian.

93. United Nations.
Current School Enrolment Statistics. Paris, United Nations, 1958. 47 p. 200 fr. A helpful reference booklet on school enrolments and literacy levels in all countries of the world.

94. Welsh, Doris Varner.
A Catalogue of Printed Materials Relating to the Philippine Islands, 1519-1900 in the Newberry Library. Chicago, Newberry Library, 1959. 179 p. $6.00 Check list of printed materials in the Newberry Library, Chicago, for the history of the Philippine Islands in the pre-Spanish and Spanish periods, including many rare volumes. The books cover political, social-cultural, ecclesiastical and local history.

95. Wright, Wyllis E., ed.
American Library Annual and Book Trade Almanac 1959. N. Y., Bowker, 1958. 311 p. Fourth annual issue of an essential reference book for American libraries - statistics and other information, library associations, directory of suppliers, postal rates, etc.

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL: (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES

A. NORTH AMERICA

96. Adams, Ben.
Alaska: The Big Land. N. Y., Hill and Wang, 1959. 213 p. $3.95 The 49th state in pictures and text. A fine handbook, published since Congress voted for statehood, packed with information about the history, geography, climate, transportation, resources, industries, scenery, and people of this northern frontier.

97. Beals, Carleton.
John Eliot; the Man Who Loved the Indians. N. Y., Julian Messner, 1957. 192 p. $2.95 The author, who has written many histories and biographies and has traveled widely over the world, make the famous missionary John Eliot with his far-seeing spirit, live for our day. Written in a swift, exciting style.

98. Dick, Claribel F.
The Song Goes On. Philadelphia, Judson Press, 1959. 165 p. $3.00 The remarkable story of Iolete ("Humming Bird") Hunt McElhaney, daughter of the proud and warlike Kiowa tribe, who after education in the eastern states returned to Oklahoma as a missionary to her own people. A deeply religious, fictional biography.

99. Estabrook, Emma Franklin.
Ancient Lovers of Peace; Recollections of the Unspoiled Southwest. Boston, privately printed, 1959. 90 p. The culture, artistic heritage and contribution to America of the Pueblo Indians. An essay interpreting the psychology of these North American natives, by a lifelong observer of their village life and folkways.

100. Fey, Harold E. and McNickle, D'Arcy.
Indians and Other Americans; Two Ways of Life Meet. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 220 p. $3.75 Authentic and disturbing survey of the half million U.S.A. Indians and the relation of the American government and people to them. Based on extensive research, written in popular style. A call for understanding and justice.

101. Fruth, Alban.
A Century of Missionary Work Among the Red Lake Chippewa Indians. Redlake, Minn., St. Mary's Mission, 1958. 125 p. $2.50 History of Roman Catholic missions among the Indian tribes of the Algonquin family who lived in the St. Lawrence valley and along the Great Lakes. Illustrated.

102. Haber, Grace Stevenson.
With Pipe and Tomahawk; the Story of Logan, the Mingo Chief. N. Y., Pageant Press, 1958. 125 p. $3.50 Facts, based on careful research, and fancy are interwoven in this historical novel about the noble and powerful Mingo chieftain Longan, friend of the white man but also victim of white treachery. The author is a school teacher in Ohio.

103. Hays, Brooks.
A Southern Moderate Speaks. Chapel Hill, The University of North Carolina Press, 1959. 231 p. $3.50 Congressman Hayes, active church layman, President of the Southern Baptist Convention, mediator in the Little Rock crisis, writes with wise judgment and deep understanding about racial tensions in the South. A notable book that should be read both inside and outside the U.S.A.

104. Jacobs, Melville.
The Content and Style of an Oral Literature; Clackmas Chinook Myths and Tales. (Viking Fund Publications in Anthropology, No. 26) N. Y., Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research, 1959. 285 p. $5.00 Eight folk legends of the Chinook Indians (Oregon) and analysis of their content, style, characters, ethical and religious ideas, world view, etc. A valuable study of sociocultural heritage.

105. Jenness, Diamond.
The People of the Twilight. Chicago, University of Chicago Press, 1959. 250 p. $1.50 "A way of life now gone." The primitive Eskimos of the Coronation Gulf Region on the Arctic Coast of Canada, as observed for two years by a member of the Stefanson Expedition in 1914. Paperback reprint of a book first published in 1928. Preface by Fridtj Nansen.

106. Lehmann, Robert I. and Others.
Aids to Jewish Evangelism. Dallas, Texas, Dallas Theological Seminary, 1959. 33 p. A digest of information about the 12 million Jews of the world: history, groups, doctrines, holy days, evangelistic approach, agencies working among them, etc. with a bibliography. Prepared for a course at Dallas Theological Seminary.

107. The Mirror of the Indian; an Exhibition of books and other source materials by Spanish, French, and English historians and colonists of North America from the 16th throughout the 18th century. Providence, R. I., The Associates of the John Carter Brown Library, 1958. 57 p. $3.00 Annotated bibliography and an address by Edward S. Morgan, "The American Indian: Incorrigible Individualist." Limited edition.

108. Roberts, Frank H. H., ed.
River Basin Surveys Papers. (Smithsonian Institution Bureau of American Ethnology, Bulletin 169). Washington, D. C., Government Printing Office, 1958. $3.25 Reports of archaeological and paleontogical investigations on three sites in the Missouri Basin and three in the Georgia-Florida region, throwing light on prehistoric and Indian life upon the North American continent as far back as the first millenium B. C.

109. Sonnichsen, C. L.
The Mescalero Apaches. Norman, Oklahoma, University of Oklahoma Press, 1958. 303 p. $5.75 This Apache tribe of New Mexico had a long and tragic history of conflict with white settlers; however, during the past 85 years they have made progress toward a new life on a large reservation. One critical reference to Christian missions. (Civilization of the American Indian series).

110. Spencer, Robert F.
The North Alaskan Eskimo; a Study in Ecology and Society. Washington, D. C., Government Printing Office, 1959 490 p. $2.50 (paper) Detailed ethnographic study of the few thousand North Alaskan Eskimos; not only good scientific research but also a vivid and readable description of the life of these Arctic people and their culture. A section is devoted to religious beliefs and the influence of Christianity.

111. Stefansson, Evelyn.
Here Is Alaska. N. Y., Scribner's, 1959. 178 p. $3.50 Revised statehood edition of an earlier research volume, containing much interesting information about the life and work of the Eskimos and descriptions of the new and growing Alaskan towns. Several pages on Christianity.

B. THE CARIBBEAN ISLANDS AND THE GUIANAS

112. Benitez, Jose A.
Puerto Rico and the Political Destiny of America. S. Birmingham, Ala., Southern University Press, 1958. 125 p. $4.00 In a rather florid style, a political leader of Puerto Rico describes recent developments in his home island and urges better understanding between the U. S. and her Latin American neighbors.

113. Caribbean Commission, Central Secretariat.
Small Scale Farming in the Caribbean. Trinidad, Caribbean Commission, 1954. 154 p. $1.00 Research papers on many aspects of small-scale farming. Record of Conference discussions, and recommendations. Of special value to rural workers.

114. McGavran, Donald.
Church Growth and Mission in Jamaica. Privately published, 1958. 61 p. Report of a recent survey of the Church in Jamaica, in which the author applies his lifelong study of principles of church growth to the complex society of that island. The problem that concubinage and illegitimacy poses for the Church is frankly considered. Written primarily for the U.C.M.S. but important for all students of evangelism and missions.

115. Macmillan, Mona.
The Land of Look Behind; a Study of Jamaica. London, Faber and Faber, 1957. 224 p. 21s. Self-governing Jamaica as it enters the new Caribbean Federation; conditions, customs, people, politics, prospects for the future. The author and her husband spent a year there among the "warm-hearted, troubled people."

116. Wilgus, A. Curtis.
The Caribbean: British, Dutch, French, United States. Gainesville, Fla., University of Florida Press, 1958. 331 p. $5.50 Papers and proceedings of the 8th Annual Caribbean Conference, 1957. Expert surveys of the British, Dutch, French and U. S. areas of the Caribbean. Valuable data and comparisons.

C. LATIN AMERICA

117. Alexander, Robert J.
The Bolivian National Revolution. New Brunswick, N. J., Rutgers University Press, 1958. 302 p. $7.50 An important book, both for its scholarly content and objective spirit and because of the current spotlight on Bolivia. Essential reading about a poor but proud country that is trying to catch up with history. One chapter on U. S. - Bolivian relations.

118. Arnade, Charles W.
The Emergence of The Republic of Bolivia. Gainesville, Fla., University of Florida Press, 1957. 269 p. $6.50 A scholarly history of Bolivia from the Spanish conquest to national independence in 1825, based upon primary sources. Good research and writing, valuable background for understanding of modern Bolivia.

119. Bolinder, Gustaf.
We Dared the Andes; Three Journeys into the Unknown. N. Y., Abelard-Schuman, 1959. 240 p. $4.50 Three expeditions (1915-1936) by a Swedish anthropologist and his wife to the Indian tribes in mountain fastnesses between Colombia and Venezuela, and the discovery of the pigmy Moraca tribe. Exciting, scientific narrative. Translated from Swedish.

120. Cunningham, Rosemary.
Harvest Moon on The Amazon. Grand Rapids, Mich., Zondervan, 1958. 151 p. $2.50 Thrilling experiences of the Unevangelized Fields Mission in the far reaches of the Amazon River, described in story form by an enthusiastic missionary wife.

121. Dolinger, Jane.
Gypsies of the Pampa. N. Y., Eleet Publishing Co., 1958. 179 p. $3.95 The author-adventuress writes entertainingly about her discovery of the "lost people," the Morochucans of Spanish and Incan ancestry, high in the Andes mountains. Their religion is a mixture of Roman Catholicism and pagan sun worship.

122. Drucker, Philip; Heizer, Robert F.; Squier, Robert J.
Excavations at La Venta Tabasco, 1955. Washington, D. C., Government Printing Office, 1959. 312 p. Results of an archaeological expedition to La Venta Island, Mexico; discoveries regarding the ancient Olmec civilization; photographs of excavations and artifacts.

123. Freyre, Gilberto.
New World in the Tropics; the Culture of Modern Brazil. N. Y., Knopf, 1959. 285 p. $5.00 Brazil is a massive, dynamic part of Latin America. The nation's foremost writer is a brilliant interpreter of its history, problems and future possibilities. Many references to Christianity.

124. Halliwell, Leo B.
Light in the Jungle; The Thirty Years' Mission of Leo and Jessie Halliwell Along the Amazon. N. Y., McKay, 1959. 269 p. $4.50 Leo Halliwell and his wife Jessie, tell of their thirty adventurous years in the Amazon jungles as Seventh Day Adventist missionaries. They were decorated by the Brazilian Government for their itinerant medical work by river launch. A heroic and inspiring story.

125. Johnson, John J.
Political Change in Latin America. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1958. 272 p. $5.00 The influence of the growing "middle sectors," with their socio-economic concern, to political development in five important countries of Latin America. The author, former U. S. diplomat and now university professor, sees hope for the future in this group. Excellent, annotated bibliography.

126. Robertson, E. H.
'Tomorrow Is A Holiday;' Record of a South American Journey. London, SCM Press, 1959. 128 p. Diary of a two-months journey to seven countries of Latin America by a secretary of the United Bible Societies, London. Quiet, intimate impressions of the churches in this area, including the Pentecostal groups; written in an informal yet frank manner.

127. Schneider, Ronald M.
Communism in Guatemala, 1944-1954. N. Y., Praeger, 1959. 350 p. $6.00 How a few thousand well-organized Communists exploited the social unrest in Guatemala, subverted the revolution, and almost seized central political power. Based upon careful research and hitherto unavailable documents, a revealing expose of Communist strategy.

128. Senior, Clarence.
Land Reform and Democracy. Gainesville, Fla., University of Florida Press, 1958. 269 p. $6.75 Laguna, cotton-growing region of north-central Mexico, is the object of this special study in land reform, its relation to population, economic and social effects and democratic implications. The author made frequent visits to the area over a period of 15 years and conducted an extremely thorough survey. Helpful for understanding of rural Mexico. "Neither Roman Catholic nor Protestant churches offer leadership toward democracy in public affairs."

129. Stark, Harry.
Modern Latin America. (University of Miami Publications in Economics). Coral Gables, Fla., University of Miami Press, 1957. 321 p. $3.00 An attempt to interpret Latin American politics and economics, the region as a whole and particular countries, for American university students. The last section deals with U. S. relations and possibilities of progress.

See also: 29, 42, 90, 109.

D. EUROPE

130. Corry, J. A.
Soviet Russia and the Western Alliance. (Contemporary Affairs No. 27). Toronto, Canada, Canadian Institute of International Affairs, 1958. 102 p. $1.25 Succint, trenchant analysis of recent history and trends in Soviet internal and foreign policy.

131. Draskovich, Slobodan M.
Tito, Moscow's Trojan Horse. Chicago, Henry Regnery, 1957. 357 p. $5.00 The author expounds the thesis that Tito is really not "different" but faithfully serves Soviet Russia's imperialist aims of world domination.

132. Kalb, Marvin L.
Eastern Exposure. N. Y., Farrar, Straus, and Cudahy, 1958. 332 p. $4.50 The journal of a Russian-speaking American student who spent the fateful year of 1956 in Moscow. Candid reporting that throws a good deal of light on the thinking and attitudes of the Russian people.

133. Stevenson, Adlai E.
Friends And Enemies; What I Learned in Russia. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 102 p. $2.95 Stevenson's discerning and much discussed report on his recent visit to the Soviet Union and his impressions of its growing military and economic power. "The Russians are tough, fearful and going places...They are also very human and friendly."

134. Webb, Leicester C.
Church and State in Italy, 1947-1957. Victoria, Australia, Melbourne University Press, 1958. 60 p. $1.75 A clear outline of the issues involved in religious liberty in Italy during the decade following World War II. Roman Catholicism and the state, the place of non-Catholic groups, religion and politics, etc.

135. Zurcher, Arnold J.
The Struggle to Unite Europe, 1940-1958. N. Y., New York University Press, 1958. 254 p. $5.00 The movement toward a united Europe from 1940 to the present. History of various proposals and plans, and a persuasive argument for complete re-organization of Europe's politico-economic structure. An objective of highest importance to the whole world.

E. AFRICA (SOUTH OF THE SAHARA)

136. Achebe, Chinua.
Things Fall Apart. N. Y., McDowell, Obolensky, 1959. 215 p. $3.75 A poignant, absorbing novel about a Nigerian village and its chief in the late 19th century. Early contacts with western missions and then western government led to tragic tensions and conflicts. Skillful writing by a young African author.

137. African Labour Survey. Geneva, International Labour Office, 1958. 712 p. $5.00 Economic conditions: Land and labor, manpower and employment, productivity, technical and vocational training, industrial relations, wages, recruitment, cooperatives, occupational safety, working conditions, inspection systems, conclusions. A monumental survey of countries in sub-Sahara Africa. Factual material, important documents, evaluations.

138. Andersson, Efraim.
Messianic Popular Movements in the Lower Congo. Uppsala, Almqvist and Wiksells Boktryckeri AB, 1958. 287 p. $15.99 Brilliant research on a significant religious development with political overtones; beautifully printed and very expensive.

139. Bascom, William R. and Herskovits, Melville J.
Continuity and Change in African Cultures. Chicago, University of Chicago Press, 1959. 309 p. $7.00 Essays by fifteen learned and experienced anthropologists on various forms and aspects of African culture, reflecting both stability and change, receptivity and resistance to new influences. One of the best books yet published on African ways of thought and life in a period of transition.

140. Bloch, Henry Simon.
A Programme for Technical Assistance in the Fiscal and Financial Field. N. Y., United Nations Publication, 1958. 21 p. $0.25 Program prepared for the Government of Ghana, with concrete proposals for immediate action.

141. Bohannen, Paul.
Justice and Judgment Among the Tiv. London, Oxford University Press, 1957. 221 p. 40/ in U.K. only. A social anthropologist defines and describes the practice of jir, or native procedural law, in the folk system of the Tiv, a semi-Bantu tribe of Northern Nigeria. Illustrated by many "cases" in courts and moots. An "artistic impression" rather than a photographic record.

142. Booth, Newell S.
This Is Africa South of the Sahara. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1959. 40 p. $0.75 A fine pictorial reading book on Africa and African Christianity, by the well-known Methodist Bishop of Central Africa. One of the 1959 mission study books on Africa.

143. Brookes, Edgar H. and Macaulay, J. B.
Civil Liberty in South Africa. Cape Town, Oxford University Press, 1958. 175 p. 21s. A scholarly devastating recital of facts about the restrictions on civil liberties in South Africa, with a minimum of comment and emotional pleading. Apartheid, say the authors, is a "mirage." One chapter discusses religious freedom. Sponsored by the South African Institute of Race Relations.

144. Bulpin, T. V.
East Africa And the Islands. Cape Town, Timmins, 1956. 98 p. 35 s. Extraordinarily beautiful photographs of Uganda and Kenya and of Madagascar, Mauritius and other islands, with a poetic introduction.

145. Bulpin, T. V.
Islands in a Forgotten Sea. Cape Town, Timmins, 1958. 435 p. 25/- That strangely beautiful portion of the Indian Ocean which meets the shores of Southern Africa - Madagascar, the Seychelles, Mauritius and other tropical islands. History and description, hand-drawn illustrations. Numerous references to missionaries and Christianity.

146. Campbell, Robert Erskine.
Within the Green Wall; the Story of Holy Cross Liberian Mission 1922-1957. West Park, N. Y., Holy Cross Press, 1957. 242 p. $3.25 The Order of the Holy Cross, an independent monastic community of the American Episcopal Church, supports and operates this mission at Bolahun in northwest Liberia. The transformation of the jungle area through a comprehensive program is here described. By the Bishop of Liberia.

147. Carpenter, George Wayland.
The Way in Africa. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1959. 165 p. $2.95 Which way, new Africa? The invasion of Africa, cultural revolution, Christian mediation; the impact of industry and city life, racial feeling and nationalism, the emerging Church. A fine, compassionate missionary education text, written by a long-time Baptist missionary in the Congo, now acting general secretary of the I.M.C.

148. Cerulli, Ernesta.
Peoples of South-west Ethiopia And Its Borderland. London, International African Institute. 1956. 148 p. 17/6 Part of an ethnographic survey of Africa, a compact summary of data on various peoples and groups of the Ethiopian borderland and southwest Ethiopia - social organization, economic and cultural features, physical characteristics, language, rituals and beliefs. A few references to Christianity.

149. Cole, Keith.
Kenya: Hanging in the Middle Way. London, Highway Press, 1959. 120 p. 5/ Old ways and new ways, conflicts and crises, Christian reconciliation and new hope - a readable little introduction to Kenya's problems today and the work of the Church in that land. By a C.M.S. missionary.

150. Colson, Elizabeth.
Marriage And the Family Among the Plateau Tonga of Northern Rhodesia. Manchester, Manchester University Press, 1958. 379 p. 42s. The complex marriage and family customs and relationships in a peaceful tribe of East Africa, carefully studied by a woman anthropologist over a period of three years. Several references to Christian missions.

151. de Pury, Roland.
Les Eglises D'Afrique entre L'Évangile et la Coutume. Paris, Société des Missions Évangeliques de Paris, 1958. 93 p. A former missionary of the Paris Missionary Society in the Cameroun discusses thoughtfully and helpfully problems of African family and marriage in relation to the Christian Church.

152. Duffy, James.
Portuguese Africa. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1959. 389 p. $6.75 Comprehensive, carefully documented history of Portuguese colonialism in Angola and Mozambique since the beginning of the 15th century. Much material on both Roman Catholic and Protestant missions. Splendid, objective scholarship; excellent contribution to our understanding of Africa. The author believes that large scale reforms are needed in Portuguese policy.

153. Gagg, J. G.
Modern Teaching in African Schools. London, Evans Brothers, 1958. 192 p. 10/6 Tested pedagogical methods for use in African primary schools. A good book for teachers.

154. Gale, H. P.
Uganda and the Mill Hill Fathers. London, Macmillan, 1959. 334 p. 13/6 An interpretive account, from original sources, of the work of the Mill Hill Mission (English Roman Catholic) in the Upper Nile from 1895 to 1914. Written on the background of political struggles and inter-religious conflicts in Uganda during this period. A solid Ph.D. thesis at the University of London.

155. Gale, W. D.
Zambezi Sunrise; How Civilization Came to Rhodesia and Nyasaland. Cape Town, Timmins, 1958. 239 p. 21/- Authentic and stirring history of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, stressing the great changes within the past century and the heroic achievements of early pioneers - including missionaries - together with prospects for the future. Timely, in view of recent developments.

156. Gerdener, G. B. A.
Recent Developments in the South African Mission Field. London, Marshall, Morgan, and Scott, 1958. 286 p. 18/6 An eminent missionary and theological professor in South Africa spent several years on this survey and interpretation of Christian missions and the emerging Churches. A comprehensive and sympathetic study of an extremely variegated pattern; some white supremacy bias is apparent.

157. Gicaru, Muga.
Land of Sunshine; Scenes of Life in Kenya before Mau Mau. London, Lawrence & Wishart, 1958. 175 p. 16 s. The true "Africa voice," Father Huddleston calls this poignant and moving story of the childhood and youth of a Kikuyu youth in Kenya - the indignities which he suffered and his hopes for a free Africa.

158. Gluckman, Max
Analysis of a Social Situation in Modern Zululand (The Rhodes-Livingstone Papers). Manchester, England, Manchester University Press, 1958. 77 p. 8s.6d. Zululand social structure and change, racial tensions and Christian-pagan relations, intelligently described by a well-known anthropologist.

159. Government of the Southern Cameroons.
Introducing the Southern Cameroons; a Symposium of the Southern Portion of the Mandated Territory of the Cameroons under United Kingdom Administration. Lagos, Federal Information Service, 1958. 97 p. 2/6 The former German protectorate of Kamerun, now the smallest unit in the Federation of Nigeria, southern half of the Cameroons Trust Territory - facts about the government, economy, communications, etc. One 8-page chapter describes Christian missions and churches.

160. Hopen, C. Edward.
The Pastoral Fulbe Family in Gwandu. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 165 p. 30/ A fascinating study of the nomadic Fulbe people in Northern Nigeria, their seasonal migrations, social organization, and the unique relations between the tribe and their herds. The Fulbe form a Muslim community.

161. Horrell, Muriel, comp.
A Survey of Race Relations in South Africa 1957-1958. Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations. 255 p. 10/ Important events, government legislation, conference actions, record of the "treason trials," etc. as they affected race relations through 1958.

162. Ibadan; Conference des Églises d'Afrique, 1958. Paris, Conseil International des Missions, 1959. 189 p. French edition of the Report on the All-Africa Church Conference at Ibadan, Nigeria, in January 1958.

163. Johnston, Bruce F.
The Staple Food Economies of Western Tropical Africa. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1958. 305 p. $6.00 One of the most complete and satisfactory books yet written on food agriculture in Western Africa, from Senegal eastward to Nigeria and tribes, and prospects for increasing production. Based on published surveys and a four-month observation trip.

164. Jump, Chester and Margart.
Coming - Ready or Not; Congo Baptists Advance. Philadelphia, Pa., The Judson Press, 1959. 100 p. $1.25 Work of the Congo Mission of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society since 1944; a mission study book covering all phases of mission activity. Interestingly written.

165. Karefa-Smart, John and Rena.
The Halting Kingdom; Christianity and the African Revolution. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1959. 86 p. $1.00 Dr. and Mrs. Karefa-Smart are well known to the recent American student generation, and now in the national and religious life of Sierra Leone, as a dynamic husband-wife team. Here they present the African revolution in vivid terms, especially as it calls for Christian understanding and reconciliation.

166. Kuper, Leo; Watts, Hilstan; Davies, Ronald.
Durban; a Study in Racial Ecology. London, Jonathan Cape, 1958. 254 p. 21s. A sociological interpretation of census data and mapping to show the problems of present residential grouping and intending regrouping in a large city where Europeans, Indians, and Africans are approximately equal in number but not in income or in power. Facts of injustice speak through scientific restraint.

167. Leglay, Marcel.
Les Religions Orientales, dans l'Afrique Ancienne d'après les Collections du Musée Stéphane Gsell, Alger. Alger, Imprimerie Officielle, 1956. 38 p. $1.60 A study of Oriental religions in ancient Africa, based upon archaeological discoveries and old inscriptions. Pamphlet.

168. Leys, Colin.
European Politics in Southern Rhodesia. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 323 p. 42s. A definitive history of political development in Southern Rhodesia during the 20th century, dealing largely with the controlling European population. The author believes that Africans should be admitted to the franchise. Attitudes of missionary societies toward racial issues are mentioned.

169. Lystad, Robert A.
The Ashanti; a Proud People. New Brunswick, N. J., Rutgers University Press, 1958. 212 p. $5.00 The old and dignified Ashanti tribe of central Ghana vividly portrayed by a young American anthropologist and his wife who lived among them for a year. The style is highly readable. There is a brief evaluation of Christian missions.

170. Mason, Philip.
The Birth of a Dilemma; the Conquest and Settlement of Rhodesia. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 366 p. 30s. History of "Africa untouched," the European conquest and settlement, and relations between whites and blacks, with particular reference to Rhodesia; also, an outlook upon the problems of the next half-century. Written with awareness of revolutionary changes and strong compassion, under the auspices of the Institute of Race Relations.

171. Niven, C. R.
A Short History of the Yoruba Peoples. London, Longmans, Green, 1958. 135 p. 5/ Brief historical account of the Yorubas, Nigerian tribe, from 1000 A.D. to the end of the 19th century. Based on reliable sources.

172. Niven, C. R.
The Land and People of West Africa. N. Y., Macmillan, 1958. 84 p. $1.50 The Gambia, Sierra Leone, Ghana, Nigeria, simply portrayed by an eminent scholar. Sympathetic to Christian missions; the rapid advance of Islam is also described. The Lands and Peoples Series.

173. Paton, Alan.
Hope for South Africa. N. Y., Praeger, 1959. 94 p. $2.50 Alan Paton's political philosophy, which is hopeful in spite of ominous developments. "The Liberal Party will have to persuade South Africa - black and white - that a non-racial democracy is a practical proposition and that it can work. It can best hope to do so if it can produce, within the body of its own organization, a forerunner of the society that it strives for."

174. Retief, M. W.
William Murray of Nyasaland. Lovedale, Cape Province, The Lovedale Press, 1958. 196 p. Biography of William Murray, (1866-1947), Dutch Reformed Church minister, founder of the Nyasa Mission and for 43 years a missionary statesman in Nyasaland. Translated from Afrikaans and abridged.

175. Richards, Elizabeth.
Fifty Years in Nyanza, 1906-1956; the History of the C.M.S. and the Anglican Church in Nyanza Province, Kenya. Maseno, Kenya, Nyanza Jubilee Committee, 1956. 78 p. Sh. 3/70 Important events, names and dates in this story of Anglican missions in Nyanza Province of Kenya, Africa. Illustrated.

176. Ross, Emory and Myrta.
Africa Disturbed. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1959. 183 p. $3.50; $1.95 paperback. Restless Africa, the fears and hopes of its myriad peoples today, revealed in many conversations with Dr. and Mrs. Emory Ross on their recent journey through the awakening continent. A vivid picture of Africa and of the Church there, superbly drawn by a veteran, beloved missionary couple. Excellent photographs.

177. Roberts, Margaret.
Labour in the Farm Economy. Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations, 1958. 137 p. 7s.6d. Careful survey of economic conditions among African farm workers in two districts of South Africa, where wages are very low. Significant contribution to our understanding of the laborer and his social life in these areas.

178. Rutherford, Peggy, ed.
Darkness and Light; an Anthology of African Writing. London, The Faith Press, 1958. 208 p. 18s. Signs of a new African culture - an anthology of over fifty selections, on various subjects and in different moods, with picturesque and colorful language, by some well-known and many little known African writers. A window into the heart of the "continent of the future."

179. Sampson, A., ed.
The New Africa. Special issue of The Twentieth Century, April 1959, vol. 165, no. 986. London, The Whitefriars Press, 1959. pp. 315-444. 3/ "An over-all picture of Africa in 1959, with its clashes and travail." A symposium that probes beneath the surface of current events. Anthony Barker, M.D. of Zululand contributes a striking article on "The Self-limiting Task of the Missionary.

180. Schlosser, Katesa.
Eingeborenenkirchen in Sud-und Sudwestafrika; Ihre Geschichte und Sozialstruktur. Kiel, Germany, Walter G. Muhlau, 1958. 355 p. Fl. 30.95 Study of the personalities and labors of six outstanding indigenous church leaders of South Africa and South-West Africa. Characteristically thorough research by a German anthropologist.

181. Slade, Ruth M.
English-Speaking Missions in the Congo Independent State, (1878-1908). Brussels, Academie royale des Sciences coloniales, 1959. 432 p. Doctoral thesis at the University of London. Admirable research on the development of English-speaking Protestant missions in the first three decades, before the Congo State became a Belgian Colony. Of great historical interest and value.

182. Thomas, Elizabeth Marshall.
The Harmless People. N. Y., Knopf, 1959. 266 p. $4.75 The enchanting story of an expedition to the Bushmen of the Kalahari Desert in South-West Africa, told in simple and beautiful prose which makes this strange part of the world and its strange people live vividly for the reader. A widely acclaimed book of travel.

183. Toppenberg, Valdemar E.
Africa Has My Heart. Mountain View, Calif., Pacific Press Publishing Association, 1958. 168 p. $3.50 Autobiography of a Seventh Day Adventist missionary who served for 43 years in Ethiopia and East Africa; a gripping narrative.

184. Trimingham, J. Spencer.
Islam in West Africa. Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1959. 262 p. 30s. The peoples of the Sudan and the impact of Islam upon their ideas, languages, old religions, social structure, economic life; also, the interaction with Westernism. A first-class book, based upon years of discerning observation and study, by a recognized authority on African religions.

185. Trusteeship Council, U. N.
Report of the United Nations Commission On Togoland under French Administration. Geneva, United Nations, 1957. 97 p. $1.00 Official records of the Special Session of the Trusteeship Council, September 1957.

186. Underhill, Edward Bean.
Alfred Saker Missionary to Africa. London, The Carey Kingsgate Press, [1884] 1958. 192 p. Reprint of the biography of Alfred Saker (1814-1880), English Baptist missionary to Fernando Po and the Cameroons. First published in 1884.

187. United Nations.
Structure and Growth of Selected African Economies. N. Y., United Nations, 1958. 201 p. $2.00 Thorough analysis of economic structure in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, Morocco, and The Sudan; and of production, patterns and prospects in these areas. Tables and text.

188. Ward, W. E. F.
A History of Ghana. (revised second edition) London, Allen & Unwin, 1958. 434 p. 25s. New edition of a book originally published in 1948, "completely revised and considerably expanded to take into account the momentous events of the last decade." Deals with unwritten tribal traditions as well as modern history.

189. Willink, Henry, ed.
Nigeria; Report of the Commission Appointed to Enquire into the Fears of Minorities and the Means of Allaying Them. London, Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 1958. 114 p. 9s.6d. A Commission appointed by the Secretary of State for the Colonies studied the fears and grievances of ethnic and religious minorities in the three main regions of Nigeria, that make difficult a unified state. Sensible and constructive recommendations.

190. Wilson, Monica.
Communal Rituals of the Nyakyusa. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 228 p. 35s. The Nyakusa and Ngonde of Southern Tanganyika have a distinctive communal system, culture and religion, which the author, a noted anthropologist, describes in careful detail. The second half of the book discusses the effects of various missionary groups and African churches upon pagan traditions and customs. Significant for all students of African life and African missions.

See also: 1, 7, 11, 27, 30, 25, 44, 47, 72, 79, 84, 396, 399.

F. NEAR EAST, MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

191. Ashmore, Ann L., ed.
North Africa, Land of Destiny; the Story of Sue Robinson. Nashville, Tenn., Parthenon, 1959. 94 p. $1.75 Unstudied, delightfully phrased letters of a young Methodist missionary in Algiers, written to her family during the first term of service.

192. Barbour, Nevill, ed.
A Survey of North West Africa (The Magrib). N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1959. 406 p. $5.60 or 35/ A long-needed, informative general introduction to the region, history and present conditions of the Magrib: Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia and Libya. By a team of international experts. Bibliography of useful books on the subject, briefly annotated. Very few references to Christianity.

193. Bridgeman, Charles Thorley.
The Episcopal Church and the Middle East. N. Y., Morehouse-Gorham, 1958. 40 p. $0.85 Excellent brief survey of Anglican missions in the Middle East and description of the "Episcopal Church in the Middle East" with its five bishoprics. The closing chapter is on missionary strategy.

194. Briggs, L. Cabot.
The Living Races of the Sahara Desert. Cambridge, Mass. The Peabody Museum, 1958. 217 p. $7.85 Ethnological study of both sedentary and nomadic peoples of the Sahara desert, with a wealth of scientific information on many aspects of tribal life, health and disease conditions, and physical anthropology. Research sponsored by the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology, Harvard University.

195. Conover, Helen F., comp.
North and Northeast Africa; a Selected, Annotated List of Writings, 1951-1957. Washington, D. C., Library of Congress, 1957. 182 p. $1.35 This companion volume to Africa South of the Sahara lists 346 books, pamphlets and substantial magazine articles about fifteen political areas. The annotations are full, excellent summaries of the writings. Most helpful for students of Africa.

196. Crawford, O. G. S., ed.
Ethiopian Itineraries Circa 1400-1524. Including Those Collected by Alessandro Zorzi at Venice in the Years 1519-24. Cambridge, England, The University Press, 1958. 232 p.

197. Drioton, Etienne; Contenau, Georges; and Duchesne-Guillemin, Jacques. M. B. Loraine, tr.
Religions of the Ancient East. N. Y., Hawthorn Books, 1959. 164 p. $2.95 A scholarly little book in very simple language about the ancient religions of Egypt and the Middle East. The authors are eminent European Catholic specialists in religion and archaeology. Translated from the French.

198. Edelman, Lily.
Israel; New People in an Old Land. N. Y., Nelson, 1958. 208 p. $2.95 Glowing description of the new nation and of modern Israel in the making. Emphasis on the religious features of Israeli culture. Beautifully printed and illustrated.

199. Fisher, Carol A. and Krinsky, Fred.
Middle East in Crisis; a Historical and Documentary Review. Syracuse, N. Y., Syracuse University Press, 1959. 213 p. $5.00 Part I is a concise summary of history, geography, economic conditions and international relationships in Middle East countries. Part II contains 48 selected documents covering the period from the Suez crisis to the American landings in Lebanon. Lucid introduction by Harland Cleveland.

200. Glueck, Nelson.
Rivers in the Desert; A History of the Negev. N. Y., Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, 1959. 302 p. $6.50 A captivating history of the Negev, desert of southern Israel, describing recent archaeological discoveries that throw light on the Biblical record and modern changes in the famous old land. The author is President of the Hebrew Union College at Cincinatti.

201. Hitti, Philip K.
Syria a Short History. N. Y., Macmillan, 1959. 270 p. $4.50 Condensation of Hitti's masterly work of 1951, brought up to date. "For the student and the intelligent layman." Strongly pro-Arabic viewpoint.

202. Kawerau, Peter.
Amerika und die Orientalischen Kirchen; Ursprung und Anfang der Amerikanischen Mission unter den Nationalkirchen Westasiens. Berlin, Walter de Gruyter, 1958. 772 p. German scholarship at its best; history of American missionary work in the Middle East and western Asia and of the old and new churches in that area; chiefly, the story of the American Board and Episcopal Church. Fully documented.

203. Laqueur, Walter Z.
The Soviet Union and the Middle East. N. Y., Praeger, 1959. 366 p. $6.00 The development of Soviet attitudes and policies toward the Middle East from the early twenties to the present time. Based largely on Soviet attitudes and policies toward the Middle East from the early twenties to the present time. Based largely on Soviet source materials, the book appraises the contending forces of communism, nationalism and western influence. A graphic picture and interpretation by a British scholar and editor.

204. Lerner, Daniel.
The Passing of Traditional Society; Modernizing the Middle East. Glencoe, Ill., The Free Press, 1958. 466 p. $7.50 An outstanding sociological treaties, based upon a decade of survey and research, with critical descriptions of the modernizing process in Turkey, Lebanon, Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Iran. Emphasis upon the significance of change in traditional society for the Middle East and all the world, and the important role of mass media.

205. Lippens, Philippe.
Expedition en Arabie Centrale. Paris, Adrien-Maisonneuve, 1956. 210 p. Narrative of a scientific expedition into the heart of Arabia, by a group of French scholars.

206. Little, Tom.
Egypt. (Nations of the Modern World Series.) Egypt's modern nationalism and Nasser's leadership appear as an inevitable development, upon the background of the nation's long history. A timely assessment of recent events and forecast of Egypt's future.

207. Longrigg, Stephen Hemsley and Stoakes, Frank.
Iraq. London, Ernest Benn, 1958. 264 p. 27/ A timely volume in the Nations of the Modern World series, on Iraq's impressive history, turbulent present and tremendous potentialities. The story is brought up to the July 1958 revolution. Several references to religion and Christianity.

208. Najafi, Najneh and Hinckley, Helen.
Reveille for a Persian Village. N. Y., Harper, 1958. 273 p. $4.00 A young Persian woman, after college study in America, returns to help the villagers of her native country take first steps toward progress within the patterns of their ancient culture. Written with poetic beauty and gentle humor.

209. Padwick, Constance E.
Call to Istanbul. London, Longmans, Green, 1958. 209 p. 16/6 Lyman McCallum, born of American missionary parents, was a lifelong, dedicated lay missionary in Turkey, Bible translator and publisher, gracious and fun-loving personality, beloved by a wide circle of friends. A biography worthy of the man.

210. Patai, Raphael.
Jordan, Lebanon and Syria: an Annotated Bibliography. New Haven, HRAF Press, 1957, 289 p. Over 1600 items, with emphasis on the social sciences. The annotations vary in quality.

211. ------
The Kingdom of Jordan. Princeton, N. J., Princeton University Press, 1958. 315 p. $5.00 The first full-length study of Jordan in the English language, with emphasis on the people, culture, religion and outlook of this small, undeveloped, strategically located country.

212. Peters, Richard.
The Story of the Turks; from Empire to Democracy. (Trans. from German). N. Y., C. S. Publishing Co., 1959. 235 p. $3.95 Sketchy essays on Turkish history, that relate past events to the present day situation, and Turkey's role as a bulwark of the free world. The author, a German newspaperman, spent nine years in Turkey.

213. Pirenne, Jacqueline.
À la Découverte de L'Arabie. Paris, Le Livre Contemporain, 1958. 327 p.
The modern discovery of long-lost Arabia, based on historical and archaelogical research. The author is a French woman scholar. Maps and photographs.

214. Qubain, Fahim I.
The Reconstruction of Iraq: 1950-1957. N. Y., Praeger, 1958. 277 p. $6.00
A scientific study of Iraq's economic resources and the development program in the seven years before the military coup of 1958. Frank appraisal of successes and failures; significant lessons for other nations. Research financed by the Foreign Policy Research Institute.

215. Riza, Ali.
The Land and People of Turkey. N. Y., Macmillan, 1958. 89 p. $1.50 A fine short survey of Turkey, "the largest, strongest and stablest country in the Middle East," in The Lands and Peoples Series.

216. Squires, H. C.
The Sudan Medical Service; an Experiment in Social Medicine. London, William Heinemann, 1958. 138 p. 15/ The remarkable Sudan Medical Service of the British Government, inaugurated in 1904 and placed under a Sudanese director in 1954. History of the early days, work with epidemics and endemic diseases, training schemes. There is a brief, appreciative section on medical missions.

See also: 2, 15, 28, 50, 56.

G. CENTRAL ASIA

217. Barthold, V. V.
Four Studies on History of Central Asia, Vol. 2. Leiden, Netherlands, Brill, 1958. 200 p. 18 Guilders. Second volume in a series translated from the Russian, an erudite biography of King Ulugh Beg (1374-1449), grandson of Tamerlane the Mongol conqueror, known as an ambitious ruler and scholar-astronomer.

218. Clarke, Humphrey, tr.
The Message of Milarepa; New Light upon the Tibetan Way. London, John Murray, 1958. 106 p. 8/6 A selection of 8 mystical poems by Milarepa, "the compassionate St. Francis of Tibet," who lived in the 12th century. Beautifully translated from Tibetan.

219. Kurkjian, Vahan M.
A History of Armenia. N. Y., Armenian General Benevolent Union, 1958. 526 p. $6.00 The colorful and at times tragic epic of an ancient nation, Christian since the fourth century A.D., with its splendid pattern of culture and art. A scholarly and complete history from the 2nd millenium B.C. to the present time, when it is a part of the U.S.S.R.

220. Vittoz, Pierre.
Goldene Dächer-Schwarttze Zelte; Sechs Jahre unter den Tiberten des Mimalaja. Basel, Basler Missionsbuchhandlung, 1958. 199 p. Golden Roof - Black Tent.

A fascinating account of the seven years which Ehepar Vittoz, missionary of the Herrnhuter Brotherhood, spent in Tibet.

See also: 6.

H. SOUTHERN ASIA

221. Baig, Tara Ali, ed.
Women of India. Delhi, Publications Division, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India, 1958. 276 p. Sh. 21 Symposium of 18 articles by Indian writers, discussing the advance of Indian womanhood and the growing place of women in professional life, culture, politics and social welfare. Introduction by Jawaharlal Nehru.

222. Bennett, Reginald M.
The Church in India; a Canadian Viewpoint. Toronto, Canadian Council of Churches, 1954. 157 p. A popular, missionary education book about India and the Church in India, with special attention to the work of various Canadian missions. Ecumenical in spirit. The author was a missionary in India and is now on the staff of the Canadian Council of Churches Department of Overseas Missions.

223. Berkes, Ross N. and Bedi, Mohinder S.
The Diplomacy of India. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1958. 221 p. $5.00 An incisive study of Indian attitudes and activities in the United Nations that throws considerable light on the ambiguities and paradoxes of India's foreign policy and also upon the tensions of present-day international relations.

224. Bondurant, Joan V.
Regionalism versus Provincialism: A Study in Problems of Indian National Unity. Berkeley, Calif., University of California, 1958. 150 p. $2.50 (Indian Press Digests, Monograph Series) Proposals for redistribution of boundaries on a linguistic-cultural basis, arguments for and against reorganization, government actions and popular response. Emphasis upon the Zonal Council as an experiment in countering separation. Indian Press Digests, Monographs Series, No. 4.

225. Caroe, Olaf.
The Pathans 550 B.C. - A.D. 1957. N. Y., St. Martin's Press, 1958. 521 p. $12.50 History of the brave and warlike Pathans, highland tribes of Pakistan and the Afghanistan border, covering two and a half milleniums. Based upon thorough research by a former British governor of the Northwest Frontier Province, before the transfer of power in 1947. First published in England.

226. Chanda, Asok.
Indian Administration. London, Allen & Unwin, 1958. 274 p. $5.75 A precise account of the new parliamentary institutions in India, and the changes that have taken place since national independence was proclaimed in 1947. Interesting and readable book on public administration, by an Indian writer. Hopeful outlook.

227. Chatterji, Suniti Kumar and others.
The Cultural Heritage of India, Vol. I. Calcutta, The Ramakrishna Mission, Institute of Culture, 1958. 652 p. R.35 First published in 1937; new edition, revised and enlarged. Panorama of the many-sided, synthetic culture of India. This volume covers prehistoric India, Vedic civilization, Janism and Buddhism. Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan is Chairman of the Board of Editors.

228. Chatterji, Suniti Kumar and others.
Indian Drama. Delhi, The Publications Division, Government of India, 1956. 120 p. Rs. 2 Fifteen well-written essays on types of Indian drama, by various specialists.

229. Das Gupta, Jyoti Bhusan.
Indo-Pakistan Relations, 1947-1955. Amsterdam, Djambatan, 1958. 254 p. Dfl.18.50 A carefully documented study of social and political factors in the thorny Indo-Pakistan problem: historical background, process of partition, dispute over Indian states, the Kashmir issue, ideological differences, minority groups, and foreign policy. The author, an Indian scholar writes well and from the viewpoint of his country.

230. de Bary, Wm. Theodore and others.
Sources of Indian Tradition. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1958. 961 p. $7.50 (Introduction to Oriental Civilizations) Source readings selected from 3000 years of Indian literature, philosophy and religion, given an appropriate setting in historical introductions. Brilliantly edited; invaluable for all scholars in Indian thought and life; a contribution to the understanding of modern India.

231. Devanandan, P. D. and Thomas, eds.
Community Development in India's Industrial Urban Areas. (Social Concerns Series No. 7). Bangalore, Committee for Literature on Social Concerns, 1958. 151 p. Rs. 4:00 Papers by a group of Christian scholars; "introduction to a study of the social implications of industrialization and urbanism in the Indian context" and statements on the Church's responsibility to the urban community. Important.

232. Diwakar, R. R.
Paramahansa Sri Ramakrishna. Bombay, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, 1956. 300 p. Rs. 2/- Bhavan's Book University. The work of Indian scholars.

233. Down, Goldie.
Missionary to Calcutta, City of Contrasts. Washington, D. C., Review and Herald Publishing Association, 1959. 250 p. The wife of a Seventh Day Adventist missionary from Australia writes in story form about the strange and interesting experiences of her family while living in Calcutta. Disparaging descriptions of Indian life and customs, along with evangelistic zeal.

234. Hausammann, Suzanne and Anand, Mulk Raj.
India in Colour. N. Y., McGraw-Hill, 1958. 107 p. $17.50 A panorama of India - her history and life today, in seventy superb coloured pictures by a Swiss photographer. Choicely worded text by a well-known Indian writer. An expensive book, but for fortunate possessors one to cherish.

235. Majumdar, D. N.
Caste and Communication in an Indian Village. Bombay, Asia Publishing House, 1958. 358 p. Rs. 17 A trained field staff headed by a distinguished anthropologist surveys and interprets the complex social patterns in a multi-caste village near Lucknow. A candid and illuminating cultural study of India by Indians. One chapter is on Religion.

236. Mayer, Albert and others.
The Story of Rural Development at Etawah, Uttar Pradesh; Pilot Project, India. Berkeley, Calif., University of California Press, 1958. 367 p. $5.50 A group of American social scientists make a significant contribution to rural reconstruction in India, helping the Government to develop new policies and methods. A frank record of successes and failures, for the most part encouraging.

37. Mendis, G. C.
Ceylon Today and Yesterday. Colombo, Lake House, 1957. 148 p. Rs. 3/50 A brief history of Ceylon, with lucid analysis of its present-day problems. Answers many questions for the student of world affairs and the prospective visitor to the beautiful island. The author is a Ceylonese educator.

38. Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India.
Facts About India. Delhi, The Publications Division, Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Government of India, 1957. 268 p. Rs. 2.00 Digest of important facts - general, economic, cultural - and of government policies and plans, in 48 short chapters. Certain topics, such as religion and caste, are omitted.

39. Munshi, K. M. and Aiyer, N. Chandrasekhara.
Indian Inheritance; (Vol.I) Literature, Philosophy and Religion, (Vol.II) Arts, History and Culture, (Vol.III) Science and Society. Bombay, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, Vol. II & III - 1956, Vol.I - 1957. Vol. I - 234 p., Vol. II - 256 p., Vol. III - 174 p. Rs. 2/- each Bhavan's Book University. The work of Indian scholars.

40. Nanda, B. R.
Mahatma Gandhi, a biography. Boston, Beacon, 1958. 542 p. $6.50 Profound appreciation of India's cultural heritage, warm yet restrained patriotism, scholarly gifts and a lucid style combine to make this a notable book, the first comprehensive biography of Gandhi by an Indian writer. Early Christian influences on the Mahatma are mentioned and evaluated.

41. Nikam, N. A. and McKeon, Richard, ed.
The Edicts of Asoka. Chicago, The University of Chicago Press, 1959. 68 p. $1.75 Asoka, one of the greatest of Indian emperors (274-232 B.C.) and an ardent Buddhist, left inscriptions through his empire which has been deciphered in the past century. A new translation into English of these "Edicts on Dharma - Law and Morality" with an excellent introduction.

42. Norrish, Alan E.
Nepal: an Open Door; God's Challenge to this Generation. London, Zenana Bible and Medical Mission, 1956. (New Challenge Series: No. 1) 39 p. 1s. Pamphlet published by one of the cooperating groups in the United Medical Mission to Nepal on the beginnings of Christian witness and fellowship in the long isolated little country at the feet of the Himalayas.

43. Overstreet, Gene D. and Windmiller, Marshall. Communism in India. Berkeley, Calif., University of California Press, 1959. 603 p. $10.00 History of the Communist Party of India in voluminous detail, from International Communist as well as Indian sources. It reveals the influence of Russian and British Communist parties, the inner tensions, adaptations to Indian situations, effects of the Kerala victory and discusses future prospects. The authors did much research in India. Communist attitudes and policies toward religion and Christian missions are not touched.

44. Pakistan - 1957-1958. Karachi, Pakistan, Pakistan Publications, 1958. 275 p. Rupees three Covers: Law and Administration, Economic Survey, Public Services, National Defense, Social Welfare, The Provinces, Kashmir, etc.

245. Parton, Margaret.
The Leaf and the Flame. N. Y., Knopf, 1959. 277 p. $3.95 Mrs. Parton is an associate editor of the Ladies' Home Journal. These are articles written during her five years in India. Wise, sympathetic and in delightful style. A fine gift book.

246. Paul, Rajaiah D.
The First Decade; an Account of the Church of South India. Madras, India, The Christian Literature Society, 1958. 294 p. Rs. 10 The best book yet written on the Church of South India - its beginning, organization, inner life, worship and leadership - by the Indian General Secretary of the Synod. The attitude of self-criticism and the burning desire for greater Indian support and expression enhance the value of this treatise.

247. Ryan, Bryce.
Sinhalese Village. Coral Gables, Fla., University of Miami Press, 1958. 229 p. $3.95 A Sinhalese village community of the South Ceylon low country near Colombo is studied by American and Ceylonese anthropologists, with support from the University of Ceylon and the Rockefeller Foundation. A captivating description of ideas and customs.

248. Sarkar, N. K.
The Demography of Ceylon. Ceylon, Ceylon Government Press, 1957. 288 p. Rs. 10.45 A thorough analysis of all aspects of Ceylon's population: main facts and trends, effects of economic change, population projection, etc. Impressive demographic research by a Ceylonese scholar.

249. Shaw, Gladys.
We Came to a Village. London, The Highway Press, 1959. 106 p. 5/ The atmosphere and "charm" of Indian villages and the joy of Christian service to village people are conveyed in this little book, written out of the experiences of a C.M.S. missionary.

250. Smith, Donald Eugene.
Nehru and Democracy; the Political Thought of an Asian Democrat. Bombay, Orient Longmans, 1958. 194 p. Rs.9/- "An attempt to draw together Nehru's ideas regarding democracy and to present them in logical arrangement," his philosophy of political and economic democracy, fundamental human rights and the secular state. Thoughtful and interesting book, by a Fullbright scholar.

251. Soundararajan, D., comp.
Essential English Dictionary and Usage; dealing with 5,100 items listed in the Departmental Syllabuses giving easy English meanings, Tamil equivalents, homely illustrative sentences, derivatives and self-contained explanations, grammatical peculiarities and antonyms. Madras, Mint Book House, 1958. 212 p. Rs. 2/- English-Tamil dictionary for Indian students.

252. The Extension Project of the Allahabad Agricultural Institute.
Experiment in Extension; the Gaon Sathi. London, Oxford University Press, 1956. 239 p. Rs.7 A textbook for students going into rural extension work in India, but of interest to all concerned with village development. The "Gaon Sathi" is "the village companion" or "friend of the village," who helps the people to solve their difficulties and achieve better life.

253. Venkatasubbiah, H.
Indian Economy Since Independence. Bombay, Asia Publishing House, 1958. 343 p. Rs.17.50 Another excellent I.P.R. sponsored study, this volume attempts a comprehensive survey of Indian's economic development since 1947. Fully documented, critical yet hopeful. The author is a research writer and journalist.

254. Zernov, Nicholas.
The Christian East; the Eastern Orthodox Church and Indian Christianity. Delhi, S.P.C.K., 1956. 138 p. Re.1-12 The ancient Christian bodies of India, described on the background of the Eastern Orthodox Church - its organization, worship, teachings and spirit. One chapter is on the Syrian Orthodox Church of Malabar.

See also: 3, 33, 53, 54, 87.

I. SOUTH EAST ASIA

255. Ba U, U.
My Burma; the autobiography of a President. N. Y., Taplinger, 1959. 206 p. $4.50 The President of Burma presents the dramatic story of his own life and of Burma's coming to independence. Readable as literature, important as an historical document.

256. Beardsley, Richard K., Hall, John W. and Ward, Robert E.
Village Japan. Chicago, The University of Chicago Press, 1959. 498 p. $8.75 The most comprehensive and informative study of a typical small Japanese rural community (Niiike in western Honsu) that has yet been made: social life, agriculture, economic relationships, land reform, politics, religions, etc. A four year survey by a skilled University of Michigan team. One of the 24 households was found to be Christian.

257. Braganza, Bustos, Camara, Constantino, Floresca, Mempin.
Philippines in Five Hours. Cincinnati, Ohio. Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, 1959. 93 p. $0.50 The story of Roman Catholicism in the Philippines and its present situation. The greatest need is for more and better native clergy. A symposium by several Filipino Catholics. Critical of Protestant missions.

258. Buss, Claude A.
Southeast Asia and the World Today. Princeton, N. J., Van Nostrand, 1958. 192 p. $1.25 A brief, dependable summary of the history, problems and outlook of nine independent states and three colonies in Southeast Asia; selection of 27 documents which are essential as reading and reference material. Useful both for the scholar and the general reader.

259. Cense, A. A. and Uhlenbeck, E. M.
Critical Survey of Studies on the Languages of Borneo. The Hague, Netherlands, Nijhoff, 1958. 82 p. Gld. 5.50 (Bibliographical Series 2) Survey of linguistic studies which have been made of twenty Borneo languages, with a valuable bibliography of 328 books and pamphlets.

260. Childe, Donald B.
Asian Survey; Report of a Secretarial Tour of South East Asia, North India, Burma and Hong Kong August, 1957 to April, 1958. London, Cargate Press, n.d. 61 p. 2/- The secretary of the Methodist Missionary Society of England describes his recent tour of mission fields in Southeast Asia, and gives interesting interpretations, sidelights and forecasts.

261. Comber, L. F.
Chinese Secret Societies in Malaya; a Survey of the Triad Society from 1800 to 1900. Locust Valley, N. Y., Augustin, 1959. 324 p. Painstaking and fruitful research over a twelve year period, by a studious British official in Malaya. "A lucid account of the beginnings of Chinese secret societies in Malaya, throwing light on this interesting social phenomenon wherever Chinese have lived."

262. Dore, R. P.
City Life in Japan; a Study of a Tokyo Ward. Berkeley and Los Angeles, University of California Press, 1958. 472 p. $6.75 A first-hand sociological survey made in the Shitayama-cho ward of Tokyo city, providing valuable information on social organization, standards of living, family life and relationships, education, leisure political activities, religion and morality. "The direct impact of Christian teachings on the ordinary Tokyo dweller is slight."

263. Gerstad, Joan.
The Jungle Was Our Home. London, Allen & Unwin, 1957. 206 p. $4.00 A tense and moving true story of life in New Guinea, by the Australian wife of a Norwegian engineer. Beset by many trials, including severe illnesses, and separated by the outbreak of Pacific War, their courage and hope do not falter. Christian missions in the background.

264. Ginsburg, Norton and Roberts, Chester F.
Malaya. Seattle, University of Washington Press, 1958. 533 p. $6.00 A group of specialists in many fields at the University of Chicago surveys the newly independent Federation of Malaya and Singapore. Extremely interesting description and interpretation of life in these new states and the problems that they face.

265. Hatta, Mohammad.
The Co-operative Movement in Indonesia. Ithaca, N. Y., Cornell University Press, 1957. 121 p. $3.00 The author, Vice-President of the Republic of Indonesia from 1945 to 1956, forcefully expounds his philosophy that cooperatives are the best way to raise the standards of living in Asia. Edited, with preface, by George McT. Mahin.

266. Kraemer, Hendrik.
From Mission Field to Independent Church. London, SCM Press, 1958. 186 p. 28s. Another seminal book by the noted missionary thinker, strategist and statesman: a collection of his letters and reports on the indigenous churches of Indonesia (then the Dutch East Indies) during the years 1922 to 1935. Full of wise observations and insights, and of permanent value to the missionary movement. Well translated from Dutch into English. Introduction by W. A. Visser't Hooft.

267. Laures, Johannes.
Two Japanese Christians; Justo Takayama Ukon and Gracia Hosokawa Tamako. Rutland, Vt., Tuttle, 1959. 128 p. $2.50 Biographies of two lesser known, brave Japanese Christians of the 16th century, who suffered under official persecution and are highly honored today. Based on research by a learned Jesuit professor at Sophia University, Tokyo. Attractively printed.

268. Lindholm, Richard W., ed.
Viet-Nam; the First Five Years: an International Symposium. East Lansing, Mich., Michigan State University Press, 1959. 365 p. $6.50 Contributors from six different nations discuss and debate many important aspects of recovery and reconstruction in South Vietnam. A unique and often exciting symposium, throwing much light on facts, trends and difficulties in Free Vietnam's surprising progress since 1954.

269. McGavran, Donald Anderson.
Multiplying Churches in the Philippines. Manila, United Church of Christ in the Philippines, 1958. 145 p. P 1.50 The author of Bridges of God and specialist on "Church growth" reports on his survey of The United Church of Christ in the Philippines, and makes recommendations for evangelistic advance.

270. Meeker, Oden.
The Little World of Laos. N. Y., Scribner's, 1959. 256 p. $4.50 Rich in information, warm with understanding and sympathy, this book describes a tiny, little-known country and an appealing people. The author was first representative of CARE in Laos. A few references to missionary work. Excellent photographs.

271. Phelan, John Leddy.
The Hispanization of the Philippines; Spanish Aims and Filipino Responses, 1565-1700. Madison, Wis., The University of Wisconsin Press, 1959. 217 p. $4.00 The strong influence of Roman Catholicism in the Hispanization of the Philippine Islands, along with the selective, emotional response of the Filipino people. A scholarly, historical and anthropological study by an American professor who spent two years in the Islands.

272. Mason, John Brown and Parish, H. Carroll.
Thailand Bibliography. Gainesville, Fla., University of Florida Libraries, 1958. 247 p. $3.00 (Bibliographic Series, No. 4). This first comprehensive bibliography on Thailand (Siam) has over 2300 references, many annotated, to books, articles and documents in nine western languages. Items on Christian missions and churches are included.

273. Schrieke, B.
Indonesian Sociological Studies; Ruler and Realm in Early Java. The Hague, Netherlands, W. van Hoeve Ltd., 1957. 491 p. Unfinished work on early Javanese cultural history, with special emphasis on succession and change in royalty since the beginning of Dutch conquest, by an eminent Dutch scholar. Profuse notes. Translated from the Dutch; distributed in the U.S. by Institute of Pacific Relations.

274. Thailand Past and Present. Bangkok, Publicity Committee, 9th Pacific Science Congress, 1957. 193 p. $7.50

275. Voorhoeve, P.
Critical Survey of Studies on the Languages of Sumatra. The Hague, Netherlands, Nijhoff, 1955. 55 p. Gld. 4.50 (Bibliographical Series I) Survey of data available on twelve languages of Sumatra, collected by many linguistic scholars, and a bibliography of grammars, dictionaries, etc.

276. Wells, Kenneth E.
History of Protestant Work in Thailand. Bangkok, Church of Christ in Thailand, 1958. 213 p. $2.00 A detailed and inclusive history of all Protestant missions and church groups in Thailand (Siam) from 1933 to the present time, and survey of present conditions. The author has been a Protestant missionary for 32 years. Printed also in the Thai language.

See also: 328.

J. EAST ASIA

277. Anderson, Flavia.
The Rebel Emperor. London, Victor Gollancz, 1958. 356 p. 25/- A brilliant study, half biography and half history, of Hung Hsiu-ch'uan and the almost successful Taiping revolution (1850-1864) which he led. A well-written book, with some imaginative excursions, on Hung's peculiar variation of Christian faith. The author thinks that the British and French were wrong to help the decadent Manchu Dynasty and that most Christian missionaries were wrong in their criticisms of the Taiping warrior.

278. Chang Hsin-hai.
Within the Four Seas... Being the Views of a Disciple of Confucius on the Prospects of Peace on Earth. N. Y., Twayne, 1958. 254 p. $4.00 Chinese society, severed from its Confucian moorings, has drifted into the whirlpool of Communism; this is the theme of Dr. Chang's stimulating book, written in the forms of monologues, letters and conversations. He urges a recovery of China's heritage and synthesis of this with the best in western culture. The author has served as a diplomat for many years and is now engaged in lecturing and writing.

279. Cheng, Chu-yuan.
Income and Standard of Living in Mainland China. (Two Volumes). Hong Kong, Union Research Institute, 1958. 362 p. $4.00 Valuable statistical information about the economy and living standards of various groups in Communist China, with explanatory comments. Painstaking research from mainland sources.

280. Chinese Language Special Class for Foreign Students in Peking University, comp.
Modern Chinese Readers, Parts I and II. Peking, Epoch Publishing House, 1958. 785 p. 14 yuan. Textbooks in the Chinese language - speaking, reading and writing - for use by foreign students in China. They show changes taking place in the Kuoyu, national language.

281. Clune, Frank.
Flight to Formosa. Sydney, Australia, Angus & Robertson, 1958. 272 p. 25/ Chatty, holiday travelogue by a peripatetic Australian writer, glorifying Taiwan, its people, government, democracy and economic progress. The author reports several conversations with Roman Catholic missionaries from the mainland and an interview with Chiang Kai-shek.

282. Cohen, Paul A. and others.
Papers on China. (Vol. 12). Cambridge, Mass., Center for East Asian Studies, Harvard University, 1958. 198 p. $2.00 Worthy of its place in a notable series, this volume contains two scholarly papers on China's reactions to early Christian missions; other subjects are Kuo Mo-jo and Fei Hsiao-t'ung. Two of the writers are children of missionaries.

283. Communist China 1957. Hong Kong, Union Research Institute, 1958. 233 p. $2.50 Twentieth in the Communist China Problem Research Series. Translation from mainland newspapers and periodicals on all phases of development in 1957, with critical interpretations of main trends.

284. Eells, Walter Crosby, comp.
The Literature of Japanese Education 1945-54. Hamden, Conn., The Shoe String Press, 1955. 210 p. $5.00 A list of 1400 published items in English - books, pamphlets and articles, well-annotated. Religious interests, Christian activities and missionary writers are well represented in the literature reviewed.

285. Endacott, G. B.
A History of Hong Kong. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 322 p. 30s. Documentary history of the British Crown Colony based on reports, records, minutes and correspondence of the Colonial Office and other government departments, from 1841 to the present time. The recent period, when thirty per cent of the population have been refugees from the mainland, is covered all too briefly.

86. Faure, Edgar.
The Serpent and the Tortoise; Problems of the New China. N. Y., St. Martin's Press, 1958. 205 p. $4.50 The ex-premier of France, who knows Russia and the Russian language, visited China in 1956 and continued his study into 1958. It is particularly interesting for the rectification and anti-rightist campaigns, and for its suggestive report on contacts with Catholics.

87. Feuerwerker, Albert.
China's Early Industrialization; Sheng Hsuan-Huai (1844-1916) and Mandarin Enterprise. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1958. 311 p. $6.50 China's earliest efforts at industrialization and modernization, within the framework of the traditional economic system, and the story of one "industrial entrepeneur" and his business enterprise. Comparisons are made with Japan, and the reasons for China's failure are analyzed. Solid, well-documented research.

88. Fitzgerald, C. P.
Flood Tide in China. London, The Cresset Press, 1958. 285 p. 25/ The Australian professor who wrote Revolution in China in 1952 describes his experiences and impressions on a visit to the China mainland in 1956. Generally favorable to the Communist regime; written in a clear and interesting style.

89. Gigon, Fernand.
Chine en Casquette. Paris, Les Editions Mondiales, 1957. 305 p. $4.40 China with a blue cap. Sharp impressions of Communist China, and sketches of various character types there today, skillfully delineated by a well-known French author. One chapter is on Chinese religions, including Christianity.

90. Goodrich, L. Carrington.
A Short History of the Chinese People, 3rd ed. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 295 p. $4.50 Third edition of Dr. Goodrich's excellent, short history of China, incorporating results of recent archaeological discoveries and modern research, as well as important events through 1957. The nation's cultural and religious development is emphasized rather than political history. Should be on every China bookshelf.

91. Japanese National Commission for UNESCO.
Japan Its Land, People and Culture. Tokyo, Printing Bureau, Ministry of Finance, Japanese Government, 1958. 1,077 p. $12.00 Encyclopedic in scope, this immense volume covers all aspects of Japanese life and history: political, social, economic, cultural, artistic. A useful reference book with numerous illustrations. Religion receives little attention and the influence of Christianity is dismissed in a few sentences.

92. Li, Choh-ming.
Economic Development of Communist China; an Appraisal of the First Five Years of Industrialization. Berkeley and Los Angeles, University of California Press, 1959. 284 p. $7.50 Description and evaluation of Red China's economic development from 1953 through 1957, based on critical examination of official industrial-agricultural production reports and estimates of national income, capital funds, currency, and prospects for future growth. Statistical tables, full bibliography, index. The author is an economic specialist at University of California.

93. Lin, Tai-yi.
The Eavesdropper. Cleveland, The World Publishing Co., 1958. 251 p. $3.75 The haunting story of a young Chinese novelist living in Shanghai, New York,

West China during the War, and again the U.S.A. It reflects the ferment of two worlds and the search of Chinese youth for a meaningful existence. Miss Lin, daughter of Lin Yutang, now resides in London.

. Mezerik, A. G.
China; Taiwan Problem, External Relations, Representation in U.N. N. Y., International Review Service, 1958. 72 p. $2.50 A clear summary of facts and events, from 1945 to the present, bearing upon Communist China's relations to Taiwan and to the rest of the world.

. Nagayo, Yoshiro.
The Bronze Christ. N. Y., Taplinger, 1959. 159 p. $3.50 First English translation of an unusual Japanese novel which became a best seller and was made into a motion picture. It tells, through the story of a young sculptor, how Christians in the Tokugawa Dynasty of the 17th century suffered bitter persecution and became martyrs for their faith.

. Poulsen, Astrid.
Baret pa Ørnevinger; Beretning om Ellen Mielsen. Copenhagen, Danske Missionselskab, 1959. 231 p. Biography of Miss Ellen Nielsen, a remarkable Danish Lutheran missionary for half a century in Takushan, Manchuria. She took Chinese citizenship and was much beloved by the people.

. Shapiro, Michael.
Changing China. London, Lawrence & Wishart, 1958. 182 p. 15s. A first-hand, sympathetic report on Communist China by an Englishman who has lived and worked there for nearly eight years. The book seeks to explain the apparent contradictions in the new society. A revealing picture from the inside.

. Sih, Paul K. T.
Decision for China: Communism or Christianity. Chicago, Henry Regnery Co., 1959. 262 p. $4.50 The author, Chinese scholar and diplomat, and also ardent convert to Roman Catholicism, presents a thoughtful and well-written analysis of China's reaction to western influence in the past, and of the crisis which Communist conquest has precipitated for all Asia. He believes that Communism will fail and that the Christian faith will eventually win the hearts of his countrymen.

. Szczepanik, Edward.
The Economic Growth of Hong Kong. London, Oxford University Press, 1958. 186 p. $3.40 Hong Kong has attracted worldwide attention because of its precarious proximity to Communist China, its swollen population and refugee problems. This book by a British economist analyzes the complex economic situation of the British colony and the remarkable development of its industries and international trade since World War II.

. Tamaru, Noriyoshi.
Die Geistige Situation des Modernen Japan. Frankenau/Hessen, Siebenberg-Verlag, 1957. 23 p. DM 1.80 The spiritual situation in Japan since World War II: religions, philosophies and sectarian movements, interpreted by a promising young Japanese scholar. Written in German.

. Voelkel, Harold.
Open Door to Korea. Grand Rapids, Mich., Zondervan, 1959. 62 p. The amazing recovery of the Korean Church after World War II and the Korean War; and stories of several remarkable Christians. Pamphlet, by a veteran Presbyterian missionary.

302. Waley, Arthur.
The Opium War Through Chinese Eyes. N. Y., Macmillan, 1958. 257 p. $4.75 The great English sinologist give us an original and revealing interpretation, from little known Chinese sources, of the Opium War between China and the British Empire. Commissioner Lin is "far and away the most important figure of the period and ... a vast quantity of material concerning him has been preserved." The last chapter on "Gutzlaff and his traitors" is damning to the Prussian missionary.

303. Whiting, Allen S. and General Sheng Shih-ts'ai.
Sinkiang: Pawn or Pivot? East Lansing, Mich., Michigan State University Press, 1958. 314 p. $5.00 A well-documented and very interesting study of Soviet strategy, its successes and failures, in Sinkiang of Northwest China, 1933-1949; the re-establishment of Chinese authority, first under General Shen Shih-tsai and then under the People's Republic of China.

304. Wu, Wen-Liang.
Ch'uan-Chou Tsung-Chiao Shih-K'o. Peking, New China Publishing Co., 1957. 160 p. ¥ 4.30 Chinese text. Survey of Ch'uan-chou by a team of Chinese archaelogists, that throws light on Sino-foreign relations in the Sung and Yuan dynasties and on early Buddhist, Islamic and Hindu influences.

305. Yap. P. M.
Suicide in Hong Kong with Special Reference to Attempted Suicide. Hong Kong, Hong Kong University Press, 1958. 101 p. HK$10.00 A careful, socio-statistical study of suicides and attempted suicides in Hong Kong, in 1953 and 1954, comparisons with previous years and data from other countries. Shows effects of refugee conditions.

See also: 10, 26, 40, 41, 94, 320, 349.

K. PACIFIC ISLANDS

306. Bates, Marston and Abbott, Donald.
Coral Island; Portrait of an Atoll. N. Y., Scribner's, 1958. 254 p. $4.95 An American scientific team spent several months of 1953 on a tiny atoll in the heart of the Caroline Islands. Their study of physical nature and their experiences with an isolated human society of 260 inhabitants make a fascinating book that invites both specialist and general reader.

307. Bone, Robert C.
The Dynamics of the Western New Guinea (Irian Barat) Problem. Ithaca, Cornell University Press, 1958. 170 p. $1.75 Thorough, objective research on the dispute between Indonesia and the Netherlands over Western New Guinea, historical and analytical; the issue in the United Nations and the present "embittered stalemate." A more comprehensive monograph will be published in 1960.

308. Fox, C. E.
Lord of the Southern Isles; Being the Story of the Anglican Mission in Melanesia 1849-1949. London, Mowbray, 1958. 272 p. 17s.6d. History of one century of Anglican missionary work in the Solomon Islands, New Hebrides and Santa Cruz Islands, through biographies of eight successive bishops and description of Christian growth in seven island groups, resulting in a vigorous Church of Melanesia. By a veteran missionary.

09. Guiart, Jean.
Un Siècle et Demi de Contacts Culturels à Tanna, Nouvelles-Hébrides. Paris, Publications de la Société des Océanistes, 1956. 426 p. $15.60 Sociological study of Tanna in the New Hebrides: traditional ways of behavior and belief, the past century of change, the story of Christian missions since the beginning of Presbyterian effort in 1839, the strange indigenous sect of John Frum; appendices with detailed sociological data and historical documents, bibliography and photographs.

10. Harrisson, Tom.
World Within; a Borneo Story. London, The Cresset Press, 1959. 349 p. 30/ The wild northern interior of Borneo before the coming of the white man, the arrival of British parachutists in World War II, the island war against the Japanese, and the years of difficult peace that followed. The author is curator of the Sarawak Museum. He criticizes sectarian missionary efforts in Borneo.

11. Henslowe, Dorothea I.
Papua Calls. Sydney, Australia, Australian Board of Missions, 1957. 227 p. 9/ Letters of Miss Henslowe on her second visit of eight months to the Diocese of New Guinea. Detailed and vivid descriptions, and narrative of interesting experiences.

12. Levi, Werner.
Australia's Outlook on Asia. Sydney, Australia, Angus and Robertson, 1958. 246 p. 27/6 Geography, history and the white Australian policy; some of the important factors that shape this nation's distinctive outlook, attitudes and contributions to Asian and world affairs. A much-needed exposition, carefully documented, by an international scholar.

13. O'Reilly, Patrick.
Imprints of the Fiji Catholic Mission Including the Loreto Press, 1864-1954. London, Francis Edwards, 1958. 60 p. 30s. Account of the Roman Catholic Missions of Fiji and annotated list of 126 books published by the Catholic mission press since 1864. A unique record, handsomely printed, with reproductions of early title pages.

ee also: 68.

L. AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

14. Fox, C. E.
Lord of the Southern Isles; Being the Story of the Anglican Mission in Melanesia 1849-1949. London, Mowbray, 1958. 272 p. 17s.6d. See No. 308.

M. GENERAL

15. Polo, Marco. (Latham, trans.)
The Travels of Marco Polo. Middlesex, Penguin, 1958. 350 p. $0.85 Excellent new translation of the fabulous narratives which the Venetian Marco Polo (1254-1323) wrote about his 14-year journey to India, China and other parts of Asia.

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES

A. RELIGIONS OF PRIMITIVE PEOPLES

e also: 121, 148, 190, 309, 396, 406.

B. THE GREAT NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS

6. Appleton, George.
Glad Encounter; Jesus Christ and the Living Faiths of Men. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1959. 88 p. 5/ A former missionary to Burma, secretary of the Conference of British missionary societies, interprets Jesus Christ thoughtfully and earnestly to men of other religious faiths. Worth reading once and again.

7. Bahm, A. J.
Philosophy of the Buddha. N. Y., Harper, 1958. 175 p. $3.00 Higher criticism applied to the original records of Gotama's life and philosophy, with original and suggestive interpretations. The sum of Gotama's philosophy is avoidance of frustrations, and the extremes of detachment and mortification. The author is professor of philosophy at University of Mexico.

8. Calloway, T. N.
Japanese Buddhism and Christianity; a Comparison of the Christian Doctrine of Salvation with That of Some Major Sects of Japanese Buddhism. Tokyo, Shinkyo Shuppansha Protestant Publishing Co., 1957. 320 p. ¥ 450 Dissertation by a Southern Baptist missionary on ideas and experience of salvation in the Zen, Jodo-Shin and Nichiren sects of Japanese Buddhism; a comparison between Buddhist and Christian doctrines of salvation with emphasis on dissimilarities and the Christian apologetic to Buddhists.

9. Chelhod, Joseph.
Introduction à la sociologie de l'Islam; de l'animisme à universalisme. Paris, G. P. Maisonneuve, 1958. 230 p. $3.60 Islam is social organization as well as creed, and social and environmental influences have affected its development in various areas and countries "from animism to universalism."

10. Chou, Hsiang-kuang.
The History of Chinese Buddhism. Allahabad, India, Indo-Chinese Literature Publications, 1955, 264 p. Rs. 15/- Comprehensive, detailed but uncritical and dull history of the Buddhist religion in China, by a Chinese scholar and professor in the University of Allahabad. No Chinese script of names and terms, no index.

11. Heiler, Friedrich.
Indische Geisteswelt-einheit in der Vielfalt. Frankenau, Siebenberg-Verlag, 1958. 27 p. DM 2.40 Dr. Heiler, renowned scholar of the University of Marburg, is author of this brief, penetrating paper on Hindu thought - world-unity in variety, and its meaning for the Occident. Published in a new series on the meeting of East and West.

12. Husain, Ashfaque.
The Spirit of Islam; a summary of the commentary of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad on Al-Fateha, the first chapter of the Quran. Bombay, Asia Publishing House, 1959. 76 p. Rs. 4.75 English summary of a famous commentary on the opening chapter of the Qur'an, a prayer of seven brief sentences. The author is a Muslim official in government service in India.

23. International Congress for the History of Religions, Shinto Committee, comp. An Outline of Shinto Teachings. Tokyo, Jinja Honcho (The Association of Shinto Shrines), Kokugakuin University, Institute for Japanese Culture and Classics, 1958. 33 p. Prepared for the Ninth International Congress for the History of Religions. Outline of Shinto, the Shinto view of man and the world, Shinto and ethics.

24. International Congress for the History of Religions, Shinto Committee, comp. Basic Terms of Shinto. Tokyo, Jinja Honcho (The Association of Shinto Shrines), Kokugakuin University, Institute for Japanese Culture and Classics, 1958. 92 p. Glossary of several hundred selected Shinto terms, in Japanese characters and romanization, with brief expositions.

25. Kramer, Adelheid.
Christus und Christentum im Denken des modernen Hinduismus. Bonn, Ludwig Rohrscheid Verlag, 1958. 177 p. DM 16.50 The encounter of modern Christianity and Hinduism, with special attention to the attitudes of important Hindu personalities toward Christ and the Christian faith. Characteristically comprehensive and thorough German scholarship. Should be translated into English.

26. Lang, David Marshall.
The Wisdom of Balahvar; a Christian Legend of the Buddha. N. Y., Macmillan, 1957. 135 p. $3.50 First English translation of the Georgian text, The Wisdom of Balahvar, a Christianized version of episodes from the Buddha's life and ministry. This is said to be a synthesis of early Buddhist and Christian ideals a thousand years old.

27. Linssen, Robert.
Living Zen. London, Allen & Unwin, 1958. 438 p. 30s. Western interpretation and application of eastern Buddhism, particularly the dialectic thought of the Zen school. A deep book that is not easy to understand, while the author says, "Zen is not to be understood but to be lived." One chapter is on "Buddhism and Christianity." Translated from the French.

28. Luang, Boribal Buribhand.
The History of Buddhism in Thailand. (Trans. from Thai). Bangkok, Chetanadhara Chakrabandhu, 1955. 32 p. $2.00 Brief, simple account of Buddhism (Mahayana and later Hinayana) through two milleniums of Thailand history, by an eminent Siamese scholar. Translated into English.

29. Mohammed.
Sayings of Mohammed. Mount Vernon, N. Y., Peter Pauper Press, 1958. 61 p. $1.00 The collection of "gentle and friendly" conversations attributed to Mohammed; text selected and translated by Stanley Lane-Poole. Attractively printed.

30. Prabhu, Pandharinath H.
Hindu Social Organization; a Study in Socio-Psychological and Ideological Foundations. Bombay, India, Popular Book Depot, 1958. 387 p. Rs. 20 Third and revised edition of a widely acclaimed exposition of Hindu social thought and organization - education, marriage and family life, attitude to women, caste - by a western-educated Hindu psychologist. Copious number of Hindu terms and phrases explained; a selected bibliography.

31. Rahman, F.
Prophecy in Islam; Philosophy and Orthodoxy. London, Allen & Unwin, 1958. 118 p. 15 s. On the Muslim philosophers' doctrine of prophecy and revelation, and its basis in Greek theories about the cognitive nature of the soul - the Hellenist movement in Islam. The author is professor of Islamic studies at McGill University.

332. Roux, Jean-Paul.
L'Islam en Asie. Paris, Payot, 1958. 304 p. 1.300 fr. The spread of Islam eastward through central, south and east Asia, and an appraisal of its present organization and strength, by a distinguished French historian.

333. Sarma, D. S.
Hinduism through the Ages. Chaupatty, Bombay, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan, 1956. 303 p. Rs.1-12-0 Bhavan's Book University. The work of Indian scholars.

334. Shōjun, Bandō and others, ed.
A Bibliography on Japanese Buddhism. Tokyo, The Cultural Interchange Institute for Buddhists, 1958. 180 p. 1660 items (books, pamphlets and magazine articles on Japanese Buddhism - general works and the important sects. By Japanese and western authors. Well-printed bibliography, with author index.

335. Tamilnad Christian Council.
A Christian Theological Approach to Hinduism. Madras, India, The Christian Literature Society, 1956. 74 p. Re 1-8 Evaluation and constructive criticism of the works of three Indian theologians: A. G. Appasamy, V. Chakkori, P. Chenchiah; from the standpoint of indigenous Christian ideals and Biblical faith. An extremely thoughtful and stimulating little book.

336. Wright, Arthur F.
Buddhism in Chinese History. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1959. 144 p. $3.75 A "reflective interpretation" of the influence of Buddhism from India on Chinese life and culture through four historical periods and the present "legacy of the religion." The book embodies results of modern critical scholarship. Selection of Readings. Originally given as lectures at University of Chicago; very fine.

337. Zaehner, R. C.
At Sundry Times; an Essay in the Comparison of Religions. London, Faber & Faber, 1958. 230 p. 21s. Christianity as fulfillment of the mystical tradition of India, the hopes of Zoroaster, the highest insights of Buddhism, the prophetic message of Islam. An original, scholarly and Christian discussion on the theme of praeperatio evangelica in non-Christian religions, by the professor of Eastern religions and ethics at Oxford University.

ee also: 184.

C. JUDAISM

ee also: 92, 106, 198.

D. COMMUNISM

338. Delaney, Robert Finley, ed.
This Is Communist Hungary. Chicago, Henry Regnery Co., 1958. 260 p. $4.50 Life under the Communist regime in Hungary - physical, educational social, civic and religious - described by eight courageous Hungarian revolutionaries who have experienced it. Introduction by John McCormick, eyewitness of the October 1956 revolt. A vivid and moving witness to the free spirit of man. The Church is pictured as "divine yet human, in the full throes of persecution."

9. Lippmann, Walter.
The Communist World and Ours. Boston, Little, Brown, 1959. 56 p. $2.00 A small but tremendously important book. The world-renowned political commentator reports on a recent visit to Russia and conference with Krushchev, observations on the Russian challenge to the West and a positive and constructive program for meeting it.

0. Noble, John.
I Found God in Soviet Russia. N. Y., St. Martin's Press, 1959. 192 p. $2.95 A young American soldier, freed after ten years of Soviet imprisonment, tells an amazing and inspiring story of the survival of Christian faith in Communist concentration camps and also of his own conversion. Introduction by Billy Graham.

1. Overstreet, Harry and Bonaro.
What We Must Know about Communism. N. Y., Norton, 1958. 348 p. $3.95 Informative, forceful analysis of Communist ideology and strategy, as it affects the United States and American life. Little light is thrown on the Communist appeal to underprivileged areas and uncommitted peoples or upon the Communist attitude to religion.

2. Randall, Z. Buford.
Cancer, Communism, and Christ. N. Y., Greenwich Book Publishers, 1958. 221 p. $3.50 A loosely constructed religious novel, with much moralizing, about a pastor in the southern states; his struggle with congregational problems, a malignant growth and other tragedies; and questions raised by social injustices and the challenge of world communism.

3. Rogers, Edward.
The Christian Approach to the Communist. (Christian Approach Series). London, Edinburgh House, 1959. 64 p. 2s.6d. A brief, thought-provoking booklet written in lucid style, by the author of Christian Faith and Communism. Positive suggestions for the Christian today in the great ideological struggle of our time.

4. Walker, Richard Louis.
The Continuing Struggle; Communist China and the Free World. N. Y., Athene Press, 1958. 155 p. $3.00 A recognized authority on Eastern Asia, the author of China under Communism - The First Five Years, brings his keen, analytical studies on Chinese Communism up to the autumn of 1958. The author is strongly anti-Communist and pro-Nationalist.

also: 203, 243, 283, 286, 288, 289, 292, 297, 298.

E. GENERAL AND OTHER RELIGIONS

5. Ayres, Lew.
Altars of the East. London, Skeffington, 1958. 216 p. 21s. Journal of a long pilgrimage through the Near East and Far East, to study and photograph the various religious faiths. Interesting but not scholarly, and rather superficial.

6. Bahá'U'lláh and 'Abdu'l-Bahá.
Bahá'í World Faith. (Second Edition). Wilmette, Ill., Bahá'í Publishing Trust, 1956. 465 p. $2.50 A compilation of Bahá-i sacred writings in one convenient volume. The Bahá-i faith originated as an offshoot of Islam with the Bab who died as a martyr in Tabriz, 1850.

7. Bouquet, A. C.
The Christian Faith and Non-Christian Religions. Digswell Place, England, James Nisbet & Co., 1958. 430 p. 25/ A distinguished book, summarizing a vast range of history and contemporary thought, by a renowed theologian and minister. Rich in content and clear in style; trenchant analysis of Communist ideology and criticisms of forty contemporary scholars of religion. Strong bias against American Christianity.

8. Ferraby, John.
All Things Made New; a Comprehensive Outline of the Baha'i Faith. London, Allen and Unwin, 1957. 318 p. 30s. An introduction to the rapidly expanding Baha'i faith, the teachings of Bahá'u'llah (1871-1892), the three central figures (new manifestations of God) of the religion, the Bahá'i community and culture. By the secretary of the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the British Isles.

9. Graham, David Crockett.
The Customs and Religion of the Ch'iang. Washington, D. C., Smithsonian Institution, 1958. 114 p. The author, longtime professor at West China Union University, led several research expeditions to the tribal areas of western Szechwan. This is his scholarly report on the vigorous and interesting Ch'iang people, who have no written language. Dr. Graham contradicts Torrence's theory that they are montheistic descendants of Jewish descent. 39 photographs.

0. Houanh, Francis.
Ame Chinoise et Christianisme. Paris, Casterman, Tournai, 1958. 148 p. Bel.F. 69. A gifted Chinese scholar, recently converted to the Roman Catholic faith, reflects upon the "rapport" between Christianity and China's traditional philosophies and religious spirit. Written with eclectic appreciation and in limpid French prose.

1. Hume, Robert Ernest.
The World's Living Religions; with special reference to their sacred scriptures and in comparison with Christianity. N. Y., Scribner's, 1959 (revised edition). 335 p. $3.50 Dr. Hume's classic; the concise, factual survey of eleven living religions and their sacred scriptures, first published in 1924. Issued now in a new edition, revised by Charles S. Braden.

2. James, E. O.
The Beginnings of Religion; an Introductory and Scientific Study. London, Hutchinson's University Library. 159 p. 10/6 Early religion before the major ethnic religions arose, in various forms and manifestations, described with a wealth of scholarship in a succinct and easily read style, for the general public.

e also: 167, 197, 278.

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

3. Alexandrowicz, Charles Henry.
The Indian Year Book of International Affairs, 1957, Vol. VI. Madras, The Indian Study Group of International Law and Affairs, University of Madras, 1957. 516 p. Rs. 15 Nearly twenty papers of solid scholarship on various aspects of international law and world affairs, with especial emphasis on India and Asia. Includes book reviews.

. Berliner, Joseph S.
Soviet Economic Aid; the New Aid and Trade Policy in Underdeveloped Countries. N. Y., Praeger, 1958. 232 p. $4.25 The new Aid and Trade Policy of the Soviet Union in underdeveloped countries; its extent, character, purpose and results to date. Careful study of a new and vital aspect of the "Cold War," by a professor of economics at Syracuse University.

. Cantril, Hadley.
The Politics of Despair. N. Y., Basic Books, 1958. 269 p. $5.00 Skilled investigations of the attitudes of voters in France and Italy: communists and sympathizers, "protest voters", and non-communists for comparison, in France and Italy. Concern for faith and non-faith in the Communist Party or in alternatives is demonstrated in such quality as to have universal bearing.

. Carlson, Lucile.
Geography and World Politics. Englewood Cliffs, N. J., Prentice-Hall, 1958. 534 p. $8.75 Political geography as it should be presented, with a fine balance between national and regional descriptions and a comprehensive, integrated picture of the whole. First rate text for reading and reference.

. Chisholm, Brock.
Can People Learn to Learn? How to Know Each Other. (World Perspectives, Vol. 18). N. Y., Harper, 1958. 143 p. $3.00 A provocative but rather unorganized and superficial discussion of the educational and psychological problems involved in international understanding and cooperation. Strong bias against religion. The author is the former Director of WHO.

. Chowdhuri, R. N.
International Mandates and Trusteeship Systems. The Hague, Netherlands, Nijhoff, 1955. 328 p. Gld. 16.50 A fresh, informative exposition of an important United Nations responsibility - the new system of international supervision, its successes and its difficulties. Has a good selected bibliography and index.

. Coelho, George V.
Changing Images of America; a Study of Indian Students' Perceptions. Glencoe, Ill., The Free Press, 1958. 145 p. $3.50 A scientific study of Indian student images of America and examination in perspective of his own country, conducted through case studies, written communications and interviews with a selected sample of 60 students. Length of stay in the U. S. is an important factor in development of attitudes. Important book for all interested in international education.

. Dawson, Christopher.
The Movement of World Revolution. N. Y., Sheed & Ward, 1959. 179 p. $3.00 A remarkable study of social and cultural change - in West and East - during the past four centuries, and of the opportunity for Christian faith in the new world order that is emerging. By the versatile Roman Catholic scholar who is now a professor at Howard University. He deals incisively with the missionary movement, Catholic and Protestant.

. Dean, Vera Micheles.
The Nature of the Non-Western World. N. Y., The New American Library, 1957. 284 p. $0.60 Popular reading on an immense and complicated subject; an analysis of hopes, fears and beliefs of peoples in the non-western world; by the keen research director of the Foreign Policy Association.

. Du Bois, Cora, et al.
The East and West Must Meet. East Lansing, Mich., Michigan State University Press, 1959. 134 p. $3.00 Lectures delivered before the Cleveland, Ohio, Council on World Affairs in 1958, with accent on Asia. The eight speakers are eminent Asians and westerners; the book is a forthright discussion of East West relationships, worth far more than its market price. Two chapters deal with religion.

. Foreign Policy Association.
World in Turmoil; Realities Facing U.S. Foreign Policy. N. Y., Foreign Policy Association, 1958. 32 p. $0.65 A statement on U.S. foreign policy, presented by the Foreign Policy Association on the occasion of its 40th anniversary, raising vital issues for consideration by intelligent citizens.

. Gange, John.
University Research on International Affairs. Washington, D. C., American Council on Education, 1958. 147 p. $3.00 A critical survey of research on international affairs in American colleges and universities, primarily from the standpoint of administration, organization and financing of such research. Informative and suggestive for directors of research and scholars engaged in research projects.

. Goodrich, Leland M.
The United Nations. N. Y., Crowell, 1959. 419 p. $7.50 Analysis and evaluation of the United Nations, combining realism and idealism. Written with clarity and objectivity, the book answers many questions about this new and important international organization.

. Goodspeed, Stephen S.
The Nature and Function of International Organization. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1959. 673 p. $7.25 A praiseworthy attempt to explain the role of international organization today, keeping in mind the strength and weaknesses of earlier systems. Encyclopedic volume, useful for teaching purposes and also for general reading.

. Grimes, Alan & Horwitz, Robert H.
Modern Political Ideologies. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1959. 535 p. $5.00 Important writings by well-known authors and political theorists, selected to illustrate major ideologies today - democracy, capitalism, socialism, communism, elitism, and nationalism. Included are recent speeches by Krushchev, Mao and Nehru. Introductory essay before each section.

. Hauser, Philip M.
Population and World Politics. Glencoe, Ill., The Free Press, 1958. 297 p. $6.00 Twelve scholarly papers on important aspects of world population growth and the serious problems that it raises today for all countries. A sober treatise, based upon historical and scientific research, disturbing in its implications, yet presenting some hopeful conclusions.

. Herz, John H.
International Politics in the Atomic Age. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1959. 360 p. $6.00 An original approach to international politics, by a professor of government at New York City College; illuminating discussion of bipolarity, nuclear power, mutual deterrence, neutralism, and other problems, with constructive proposals for delimited spheres and "universalism" as the only alternative to annihilation.

70. Hill, Norman and Lund, Doniver.
If the Churches Want World Peace. N. Y., Macmillan, 1958. 148 p. $3.00 Two professors of political science who are also Christian laymen criticize and appraise the responsibilities and performances of the churches in movements for international justice and good will. They advocate Christian education for peace rather than church pronouncements on concrete issues. A forthright and provocative statement.

71. Horrell, Muriel.
Race Classification in South Africa - Its Effects on Human Beings. Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations, 1958. 78 p. 2s.6d. A sensitive study of the humiliations and tragedies caused by investigations into people's racial antecedents in South Africa. The collection of the material was "utterly depressing," but the author found many persons "deeply concerned."

72. Institute of Research on Overseas Programs.
The International Programs of American Universities. East Lansing, Mich., Michigan State University, 1958. 323 p. $2.50 A study of 382 international programs carried on by 184 universities and colleges of the United States, with full description of each one. Useful reference work for all interested in international education.

73. International Institute of Differing Civilizations.
Women's Role in the Development of Tropical and Sub-Tropical Countries. Brussels, INCIDI, 1959. 543 p. $5.00 Report of the 31st meeting of the International Institute at Brussels in 1958. Addresses, papers, studies of the social and legal status of women in various countries, the contribution of women in various fields.

74. International Yearbook of Education, 1957. Paris, UNESCO, 1959. 497 p. 1,500 fr. UNESCO survey of educational progress in 73 countries, comparisons with previous years, and analysis of problems.

75. Kuper, Leo; Watts, Hilstan; and Davies, Ronald.
Durban; a Study in Racial Ecology. London, Jonathan Cape, 1958. 254 p. 21s. A sociological interpretation of census data and mapping to show the problems of present residential grouping and intending regrouping in a large city where Europeans, Indians, and Africans are approximately equal in number but not in income or in power. Facts of injustice speak through scientific restraint.

76. Lederer, William J. and Burdick, Eugene.
The Ugly American. N. Y., Norton, 1958. 285 p. $3.95 A somewhat disconnected novel but "best seller", depicting the provincialism, inability to make adjustments and outright blunders of Americans in diplomatic and technical service abroad. Despite exaggerations the characters are recognizable and become a plea for better selection of personnel. Unfortunately, the only missionary in the book is a Roman Catholic priest more interested in counter-espionage than missionary service.

77. Hogerton, John F., ed. Little, Arthur D., inc.
Atoms for Peace; U.S.A. 1958. Washington, D. C., Government Printing Office, 1958. 162 p. $4.50 A pictorial survey prepared for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, on research and production, reflecting marvelous scientific advance, humane objectives and the need for international cooperation.

78. Lowenstein, Edith.
The Alien and the Immigration Law; a Study of 1446 Cases Arising Under the Immigration and Naturalization Laws of the United States. N. Y., Oceana Publications, 1958. 383 p. $7.50 An extremely useful compendium of factual information on the application of the American Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 (amended in 1957), illustrated by specific cases of 1446 aliens and citizens. An indispensable reference book on problems of immigration, residence status, deportation, and naturalization. The author is active in the Counsel for American Unity.

79. MacIver, Robert M.
The Nations and the United Nations. N. Y., Manhattan Publishing Co., 1959. 186 p. $3.00 A commentary on the studies made of 24 countries with relation to the United Nations; analysis of the major issues and source of conflict. One of the most penetrating examinations yet made of underlying problems and trends in the international organization.

80. Mills, C. Wright.
The Causes of World War Three. N. Y., Simon & Schuster, 1958. 172 p. $3.50 The idea of a "power elite" of major decision makers, advanced in Mills' earlier books, applied here to the international scene and problem of war. Oversimplification of complex issues and indiscriminate distribution of blame. Some salutary criticisms, moralistic tone, but not prophetic literature. Superficial at many points, yet a contribution to public debate.

81. Moskowitz, Moses.
Human Rights and World Order. N. Y., Oceana, 1958. 239 p. $3.95 An excellent discussion of one of the principal objectives of the United Nations; analysis of the problems and obstacles; proposals for the future. By an experienced consultant to the Economic and Social Council of the U. N.

82. Mukherjee, P. K.
Economic Surveys in Under-Developed Countries. London, Asia Publishing House, 1959. 263 p. 34/ Analysis and critical evaluation of rural economic surveys, with illustrations from India primarily. Special attention is given to questions of methodology and the relation of village economic problems to other aspects of the national economy, and the applicability of certain principles of research to conditions in other countries. The author is an agricultural economist in Delhi.

83. Public Affairs Institute.
Regional Development for Regional Peace; a New Policy and Program to Counter the Soviet Menace in the Middle East. Washington, D. C., The Public Affairs Institute, 1958. 332 p. Useful reference work, with background material and concrete proposals for peace in the Middle East.

84. Rees, Elfan.
We Strangers and Afraid; the Refugee Story Today. N. Y., Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, 1959. 72 p. 50¢ The harsh facts about 40 million refugees in the world today; proposed solutions; the response to the issues; what of the future? A little booklet full of important and disturbing information; by the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the International Committee for the World Refugee Year, a leader in the World Council of Churches.

85. Riessen, H. van.
The Society of the Future. Philadelphia, The Presbyterian and Reformed publishing Co., n.d. 320 p. The social aspect of modern civilization and various important philosophies of the future and examined in this deep treatise by a Dutch scientist and Christian scholar. He argues against mechanistic and collective control of human life and for a large degree of spiritual freedom and creativity. Translated into English.

86. Russell, Ronald S., ed.
The Empire and Commonwealth Yearbook, 1958-9. London, Neame, 1958. 568 p. 50s. A mine of information, well-organized and clearly printed. Essential reference volume.

87. Thompson, Edgar T. and Hughes, Everett C.
Race; Individual and Collective Behavior. Glencoe, Ill., The Free Press, 1958. 619 p. $7.50 A book of selected readings from over one hundred authors, on many aspects of race and race relations today. Contains a wealth of material for study and reference. Exhaustive bibliography, no index.

88. United Nations.
Study Abroad; International Handbook, Fellowships, Scholarships, Educational Exchange. Paris, UNESCO, 1958. 779 p. 900 fr. Tenth edition. Programs of 83 states and territories, showing 75,000 opportunities for subsidized study and travel abroad. A total of 65,000 foreign students are enrolled at universities and other educational institutions in sixty countries. "International exchanges form the essential groundwork for cooperation between people of different cultures."

89. United Nations, Department of Economic and Social Affairs.
The Future Growth of World Population. (Population Studies, No. 28). N. Y., United Nations, 1958. 75 p. $0.80 Population growth, this book says, is "at the very heart of the problem of our existence." Present data and forecasts of population expansion up to the 2000 A.D.

90. United Nations.
Yearbook of the United Nations, 1957. N. Y., United Nations, 1958. 604 p. $12.50 A comprehensive account of the world activities of the United Nations and its related agencies during 1957. Fully indexed. Essential reference volume.

91. Viet, Jean.
Assistance to Under-developed Countries; an annotated bibliography. Paris, UNESCO, 1957. 83 p. $1.00 Selected and annotated bibliography of 869 items (books, pamphlets, articles) on technical and financial assistance to under-developed regions of the world. English and French languages. Very useful.

92. Ward, Barbara.
Five Ideas that Change the World. N. Y., Norton, 1959. 188 p. $3.75. The five ideas - nationalism, industrialism, colonialism, communism, and internationalism - are interpreted with incisive skill and in easy-flowing style by the noted British writer on economics and international affairs. The chapter on Communism is especially illuminating.

93. Wellhagen, Julius.
The World Community, Peace, The United Nations. (Tr. from Swedish). Mullsjo, Sweden, The Institute of Social Research, 1957. 161 p. Sw. Cr. 15 The place of the United Nations in the creation of a new world community; addresses by a Swiss clergyman and public lecturer, with some novel proposals.

ee also: 82, 104, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 133, 134, 135, 137, 143, 165, 168, 173, 176, 177, 179, 189, 199, 203, 223, 226, 229, 231, 258, 303.

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS

94. Coblentz, Stanton A.
The Long Road to Humanity. N. Y., London, Yoseloff, 1959. 494 p. $6.00 A panoramic view of man's upward struggle from savagery toward a human society, not hiding the dark and tragic side of yesterday and today, but also pointing to signs of hope. A powerful social and anthropological history of mankind. Two chapters on religion.

95. Coulborn, Rushton.
The Origin of Civilized Societies. Princeton, N. J., Princeton University Press, 1959. 200 p. $4.00 The origin of seven primary and seven secondary societies is traced to river valley and other water supply sources, and the religions which gave settlers courage to survive. The basic research was subsidized by certain foundations and special funds. The treatment is somewhat sketchy and the arguments are not fully convincing.

96. Fortes, Meyer.
Oedipus and Job in West African Religion. Cambridge, Cambridge University Press, 1959. 81 p. 10s. 6d. Concepts of prenatal fate and destiny - evil and good, which the author considers to be religious extrapolations of experiences generated in parent-children relationships. Parallels to the stories of Oedipus and Job are examined. The author is professor of Social Anthropology at University of Cambridge.

97. Edmonson, Munro S.
Status Terminology and the Social Structure of North American Indians. Seattle, Wash., University of Washington Press, 1958. 84 p. $3.00 Nine American Indian societies were selected for a comparative study of their "status terminologies," that is language related to position in the social pattern. Highly specialized ethnological research.

98. Fried, Morton H., ed.
Readings in Anthropology. v. 1, Physical Anthropology, Linguistics, Archeology. v. 2, Cultural Anthropology. N. Y., Crowell, 1959. 482 p. & 598 p. v. 1 $3.00 v. 2 $3.25 A wide variety of selections from 73 significant books and articles dealing with physical and cultural anthropology, linguistics and archaeology, with excellent introductions by the editor. A rich contribution to teachers and students of anthropology and to interested general readers as well.

99. Geluwe, H. Van.
Central Africa, Belgian Congo, Part III. Mamvu-Mangutu et Balese-Mvuba. Ethnographic Survey of Africa series. 1957. 195 p. 21s. Summary of anthropological data from many sources regarding tribes of eastern Congo Belge. In French

00. Hays, H. R.
From Ape to Angel; an Informal History of Social Anthropology. London, Methuen, 1958. 461 p. 36/ An important book, describing the work of outstanding anthropologists of the 19th and 20th centuries and the various schools of ethnological theory that have developed. The reader will learn much about the significance of anthropological science in seeking an understanding of mankind.

01. Honigmann. John J.
The World of Man. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 971 p. $7.50 Much anthropological theory and research especially in the area of cultural anthropology is assembled and integrated in this comprehensive new text. The emphasis is upon living data. Religion in culture is inadequately treated.

2. Lofts, Norah.
Heaven in Your Hand. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1958. 261 p. $3.95 A collection of short stories by a gifted writer. The scenes are England, the Far East, and Africa. "The Black Christ of Adlerwal" and "The White Man" (a missionary) are unforgetable sketches.

3. Mead, Margaret.
An Anthropologist at Work; Writings of Ruth Benedict. Boston, Mifflin, 1959. 583 p. $6.00 Collection of essays, research papers, letters and poems by a distinguished woman anthropologist, collected, edited and introduced by her close friend and fellow-scholar. A revelation of two geniuses in the study of social culture.

4. Murdock, George Peter.
Our Primitive Contemporaries. N. Y., Macmillan, 1957. 614 p. $6.00 Well-written digest of available information about eighteen representative tribes of today. Prepared as a textbook for students of anthropology, yet also of interest to the general reader. The dedication includes "missionaries." Many references to religions and Christian missions.

5. Neill, Stephen.
A Genuinely Human Existence; towards a Christian Psychology. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 312 p. $4.50 Bishop Neill, eminent missionary, scholar, author, draws from his vast store of knowledge and experience for this unusual study of human dynamics in the light of Christian truth.

6. Service, Elman R.
A Profile of Primitive Culture. N. Y., Harper, 1958. 474 p. $6.00 A representative sample of cultures in the non-European world: sixteen bands, tribes and primitive states, and four modern folk societies, that reflect the prehistory of mankind and are undergoing radical change. Suggested additional readings at end of each chapter. A fascinating anthropological text for study or general reading.

7. Titiev, Mischa.
Introduction to Cultural Anthropology. N. Y., Holt, 1959. 464 p. $6.95 Introduction to one important branch of anthropology: patterns of life and behavior among all the individuals of various societies and cultures. Historical, descriptive and interpretative exposition. By a widely travelled anthropologist.

8. UNESCO.
International Bibliography of Social and Cultural Anthropology, Vol.I. Paris, UNESCO, 1958. 259 p. $5.50 First number of a planned annual bibliography of books and articles on all aspects of anthropology. This volume, for 1955, contains more than 3500 items.

e also: 119, 121, 122, 139, 141, 148, 150, 158, 160, 166, 190, 194, 204, 235, 256, 261, 262, 304, 305, 309.

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL

9. Bavinck, J. H.
Faith and Its Difficulties. Grand Rapids, Mich., Eerdmans, 1959. 85 p. $2.00 The author, professor of missions at the Free University of Amsterdam, draws on the insights gained during a long missionary experience for this fine little book on victorious Christian faith. Translated from the Dutch.

. Bowles, Cyril and Webster, Douglas.
Prayers and Forms of Service for Various Missionary Occasions. London, The Highway Press, 1958. 35 p. 2s. Gems of missionary devotion, equally helpful for private and public worship.

. Carmichael, Amy.
Toward Jerusalem. London, S.P.C.K., 1957. 120 p. 2s. Seventh reprint of a book of lovely poems by the saintly and indomitable missionary of Donavur, India. "What though the tumult of the storm increase, Grant to Thy servant strength, O Lord, and bless with peace."

. Carols of Christmas from Many Lands. Minneapolis, Augsburg, 1958. 43 p. $1.50 Forty-two Christmas carols, music and words (translated into English), from a dozen lands, for use in churches and schools.

. Cullmann, Oscar and Leenhardt, F. J.
Essays on the Lord's Supper. (Ecumenical Studies in Worship). Richmond, Va., John Knox, 1958. 87 p. $1.25 The meaning of the Lord's Supper in primitive Christianity and in the Church today, and essays on various interpretations. A helpful contribution to ecumenical thinking.

. Darroch, M. A., comp.
How Shall They Hear? Missionary Messages by Outstanding Christian Leaders. Grand Rapids, Mich., Zondervan, 1958. 119 p. $2.00 Ten impassioned missionary sermons by well-known leaders in conservative evangelical missionary societies and training institutions of North America. The editor was until recently Home Director of the Sudan Interior Mission.

. Davies, J. G., Cope, G. F., Tytler, D. A.
An Experimental Liturgy. Richmond, Va., John Knox, 1958. 72 p. $1.25
A booklet in the series of ecumenical studies in worship.

. Gertrude, Sister.
Christian Prayer. (World Christian Books, No. 27, Second Series). London, United Society for Christian Literature, 1959. 79 p. 2s. 6d.

. Fison, J. E.
Fire upon the Earth. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1958. 118 p. 5/- The fire of revival, of the Word, of the altar, of the mind and heart, the missionary fire, the fire of unity, the fire of love. A very thoughtful little book about the Holy Spirit at work today, by a former missionary in the Near East.

. Garrett, T. S.
Worship in the Church of South India. (Ecumenical Studies in Worship, No. 2). Richmond, Va., John Knox, 1958. 62 p. $1.25 History and interpretation of recent developments in liturgy, orders of worship (including baptism and the Lord's Supper), and the prayer book in the new Church of South India. A significant addition to ecumenical literature.

. Hofinger, J.; Kellner, J.; Brunner, P.; Seffer, J.
Worship: the Life of the Missions. Notre Dame, Indiana, University of Notre Dame Press, 1958. 342 p. $4.75 (Liturgical Studies). A thoughtful and candid discussion of the values of worship and liturgy for missions, by four Roman Catholic scholars who are deeply concerned with more active participation by the people, in the new churches of Asia and Africa, and the problems of priestless church communities.

20. Nicholls, William.
Jacob's Ladder: the Meaning of Worship. (Ecumenical Studies in Worship, No. 4). Richmond, Va., John Knox, 1958. 72 p. $1.25 Development of the doctrine of worship upon Christological foundations, part of a wider movement of thought in relation to "Faith and Order." By a former secretary of the World Student Christian Federation.

21. Saxe, Raymond H. and others.
Witnessing. N. Y., Interdenominational Foreign Mission Association, 1959. 53 p. $0.50 Five addresses on missionary witnessing given at a conference sponsored by the Interdenominational Foreign Mission Association in March, 1959.

22. Shearer, Phyllis M.
Let Us Pray. London, Cargate Press. 47 p.

23. Scherer, James A. and others.
Missionary Vocation: Proceedings, Fourth Biennial Meeting, Association of Professors of Missions. Chicago, Association of Professors of Missions, 1958. 152 p.

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

January - June, 1959

ccasional Bulletin. Published ten to fourteen times a year at the nominal subscription rate of $1.00 for the calendar year. No additional charge for postage, domestic or foreign.

Vol. X

No. 1. The Changing and Unchanged Mission. By Eliezar D. Mapanao. 6 p. $0.15

No. 2. A List of Protestant Theological Schools in Africa, Asia and Latin America. By Yorke Allen, Jr. And a Bibliography prepared by the Missionary Research Library. 17 p. $0.25

No. 3. Protestant Medical Missions Today. By Arthur W. March and Frank W. Price. And a Bibliography prepared by the Missionary Research Library. 19 p. $0.25

No. 4. The Buddhist-Christian Encounter in Burma. By Paul D. Clasper. 10 p. $0.15

No. 5. Urban and Industrial Missions. By Henry D. Jones. And a Selected Bibliography prepared by the Missionary Research Library. 10 p. $0.15

ook Notes. Issued monthly. Free to subscribers of the Occasional Bulletin or sent upon request.

January.	India and Nepal.
February.	Social Environment of Missions
March-April	Japan.
May.	International Affairs.
June.	Middle East in Crisis.

elected List of Current Books and Periodicals, July-December, 1958. $0.50

irectory of Protestant Medical Missions. Compiled by Arthur W. March. 134 p. $2.00

rotestant Churches of Asia, The Middle East, Africa, Latin America, and the Pacific Area. Compiled by Frank W. Price and Clara E. Orr. 75 p. $1.00

GTU Library
3 2400 00645 5962